ODDITIES IN TODAY'S NEWS

A "B" HAPPY FAMILY

Troy, N. Y., Sept. 27.—(AP)—The 18 Baylys—including grandparents—pile into the family bus and head for Los Angeles.

When Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bayly recently decided to take their first vacation in 20 years, they bought a school bus for their 14 children and Bayly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archer Bayly.

When the Bayly children were christened, names beginning with "B" were selected. The roster runs like this:

Beverly, 18; Buddy, 17; Barry, 16; Barbara, 14; Bette, 13; Bradley, 12; Brian, 10; Bernice, 8; Blake, 7; Brenda, 6; Bernadette, 4; Beryl, 3; Bernard, 2; Benjamin, 1.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH

Los Angeles, Sept. 27—(AP)—"Everybody in the country saw more of her than I did," actor Paul Valentine testified in obtaining a divorce from stripteaser Lili St. Cyr. He charged mental cruelty.

Miss St. Cyr is in Montreal filling an engagement. She did not contest the divorce.

CAVALCADE OF CLUNKS

Richmond, Va., Sept. 27—(AP)—A cavalcade of 90 ancient automobiles—25 years and older—left here this morning for colonial Williamsburg on the third lap of its five-state tour.

The Glidden "endurance run," famous in early 1900's, started its fourth postwar revival in Gettysburg, Pa., Sunday. The cars include such forgotten names as Knox, Maxwell and MacIntyre.

WATCHMAN WATCHES WATCHMAN

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 27—(AP)—Two detectives were sent out last night to investigate a suspicious-looking man standing in an alley.

They found the man was the watchman at an industrial plant. He told them that for half an hour he had been keeping an eye on a suspicious-looking man at the other end of the alley.

"Fine," said the detectives. "Keep it up. We'll circle and get him from behind."

They did.

Suspicious-looking man No. 2 explained:

He is a watchman from another plant and for half an hour had been keeping an eye on a suspicious-looking man at the other end of the alley.

TOTS ON PICKET LINES

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 27—(AP)—Wives and children of striking CIO united auto workers picketed the Bell Aircraft Corp., plant today and turned back several carloads of non-strikers.

At one time there were 61 women and 18 children, one in a baby carriage, parading in a circle before them in gate. Many wore army helmet liners.

The women, members of the ladies auxiliary of UAW local 501, carried placards with such legends as:

"Husbands, wives and kids united," "wives say no peace until we win," and "my daddy fights for me."

Some of the picketing women used the placards to beat on the hoods and tops of autos attempting to enter.

HIS IDEA OF 'FUN'

Chicago, Sept. 27—(AP)—Charles Berndt was having a lot of fun yesterday, but women of the neighborhood didn't think it was very amusing. Neither did the cops.

Charles, 16, played hookey from school, donned a rubber face mask, with an old mop for hair, and a black cape. He looked like something out of a horror story. He darted out of halls and areaways, frightening passersby.

His prank ended ahead of schedule, however, when several women chased him, cornered him and held him for police.

The officers took him to the juvenile home, where he was detained for questioning, without charges.

Two Couples Obtain Licenses to Marry

The following marriage licenses were issued today by County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock.

Leo B. Faivre, 41, to Miss Helen Elizabeth Keyes, 35. Both live in Amboy.

Melvin S. O'Brien, 22, to Miss Joan McCleary, 16. Both reside in Dixon.

Rotary Hears It's Cheaper In 'Long Run'

Predicts Savings of $100,000 in 20 Years

Mayor J. Fred Hofmann told Dixon Rotarians yesterday that the current land fill method of garbage disposal will cost taxpayers about $100,000 more over a 20-year period than an incinerator.

Launching his second campaign in a few months for the incinerator, Mayor Hofmann focused his attention on the original and operating costs of both land fill method of garbage disposal and an incinerator.

He compared initial costs this way: Incinerator—$80,000. Land fill method—$49,000.

Studied 30 Cities

As guest speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary, the mayor said the initial cost of the incinerator would cover everything, including legal expenses and architect's fees. He documented his statements, saying the figures were based on a study of 30 cities with garbage-burning plants.

He broke the original cost of the land fill method down to $10,000 for land, $35,000 for equipment, and $4,000 for a building and a fence.

The mayor explained that the land-fill method over a period of 20 years would require 50 acres of land at a minimum cost of $200 an ace. He said, however, that Rockford paid $1,100 an acre and that Winnetka paid $3,000.

Mayor Hofmann pointed out that the original $31,000 saving offered in the original cost of the land fill method—when compared to the initial cost of an incinerator—was purely an illusory one. He said the operating costs of the land fill would wipe out any initial saving and force the community to pay out $100.000 more besides.

Here's the way he stacked up operating costs:

INCINERATOR
Salary (one man)	$ 3,000
Repairs (firebrick and grates)	500
Land for ashes	1,000
Depreciation	4.000
Total	$ 8.500

LAND FILL
Salaries (two men)	$ 6.000
Repairs	1,000
Fuel	1,500

'Mad Poet of Amboy' Again Seeks Freedom

Charles Skinner, "the mad poet of Amboy," filed his fourth petition for a writ of habeas corpus today in Judge George C. Dixon's Circuit court.

Currently serving a life sentence in the Southern Illinois state penitentiary for the 1935 shooting of an Amboy girl, Olive Derwent, Skinner is charging that procedures at his original trial were defective. He asked to be brought back here to have his case reviewed. The girl died later of pneumonia.

His three previous petitions were dismissed by Judge Dixon, who said he would rule this afternoon on the fourth one.

Skinner, who is totally deaf, also has a habeas corpus petition pending in the Chester county circuit court. A hearing there is scheduled for Oct. 12.

Four Dixon residents who took part in Skinner's original trial have been subpoenaed for the Chester hearing. They are Sheriff Gilbert Finch, then deputy sheriff; Ward Miller, former sheriff; Mrs. Anna Moore, court reporter, and Edward A. Jones, former state's attorney.

Skinner has had a similar petition denied by the Illinois Supreme Court.

The Midway began taking form yesterday as the rides and concessionaires were spotted and began their task of erecting booths and stalls. The Midway will be formally opened at 7:30 tonight when a salvo of bombs will be fired announcing the opening of Dixon's Injun Summer Celebration.

The Indian ceremonial dances are to be presented Wednesday and Thursday afternoon and evening. The street parade will start at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon and the immense fireworks display at 9 o'clock Thursday night.

Executive Chairman C. L. Ballard today appealed to the merchants of Dixon to display flags in front of their places of business both Wednesday and Thursday.

New U.S. Judgeship in State Proposed

Chicago, Sept. 27 — (AP) — Congress will be asked to create an additional federal district judgeship in northern Illinois and two in Indiana.

Chief Justice J. Earl Major of the Seventh U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals said yesterday that a conference of senior federal judges in Washington last week decided to include that request with other recommendations.

It was prompted, he said, by an unusually heavy load of cases in the districts during the fiscal year, ended July 1.

Bollivar was held in the county jail until he appeared before Judge Gehant yesterday. He was unable to post the $1,000 bond set by Police Magistrate Albert N. Kennedy.

Barciz served 11 months on a one-to-five year sentence for larceny. Both men were arrested by Chief Deputy Sheriff Charles Redebaugh when Barciz called from Harmon and said: "I want to give myself up."

Whiskey Drinking Is On the Up, It Seems

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—National Distillers Products Corp., said today it has started a $2,000,000 improvement program at its Louisville, Ky., bottling plant.

The announcement said six existing bottling lines will be supplemented by two more, each almost half a city block long and with a maximum capacity of filling 140 bottles a minute.

The project, including construction of a new three-story processing building and enlargement and renovation of existing structures known as National Distillers' K.D.&W. plant, is expected to be completed about Nov. 1.

Five-Year Suit Settled Here by Jury in an Hour

A fast-moving Lee county jury cleaned up a five-year-old accident case yesterday in one hour—returning a $275 verdict for the plaintiff, Kenneth J. Mall, against George Yale, 502 Dixon avenue.

The accident occurred March 17, 1944, on State Route No. 2. In his complaint, Mall charged that Yale failed to keep on the right side of the road.

Believe 53 Are Dead in Air Crashes

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fourteen persons died and it was feared 39 others lost their lives in four plane mishaps in this country, Mexico and England yesterday (Monday).

The most spectacular accident involved a Mexican Airlines plane with 24 aboard. A shepherd said he saw it fall into the snow high on the slopes of Popocatepetl volcano.

Rescue workers toiled toward the scene. Mexican Senator Ramos Millan, chairman of the National Corn Commission, was reported aboard. The line said two of the passengers may be Americans.

A B29 air force bomber on a training flight from Smoky Hill base, Salina, Kas., crashed and burned near Talihina, Okla. A rescuer said he had counted 10 bodies. It was believed the other three crewmen also perished.

Twelve other fliers died and two were missing in the air collision of two four-engined RAF bombers in central England. The accident occurred during exercises testing western allied air strength.

Two University of Tennessee students were killed in the crash of their single engine near Heiskell, Tenn.

State's Attorney Signs Complaint Against Gambling

Ottawa, Ill., Sept. 27—(AP)—The state's attorney and sheriff of LaSalle county today signed criminal information charging operators of two night clubs with possessing gambling devices.

The informations were prepared for filing later today in county court. They name Leo Kautz, formerly of Davenport, Ia., as operator of the Diamond Horseshoe night club near Oglesby, Ill., and William R. (Tinney) Cosgrove, as operator of the Club South Bluff near Peru, Ill.

Deputy sheriffs raided the two clubs Sunday night.

Kautz and Cosgrove had been ordered to appear before Justice of the Peace. The order was canceled when Charles A. Heltfrich, state's attorney, and Sheriff Edward T. Ryan signed the informations. Instead, Kautz and Cosgrove are to be arraigned in county court at 2 p. m. (CST) tomorrow.

Lilly and Smith Go on Re-Trial

Harry C. Lilly and William Smith will face a jury tomorrow and charges of armed robbery burglary, and larceny.

Charles A. Kinney, of Mt. Carroll, will represent Smith and Lilly. He was appointed their attorney by Judge Leon Zick when the two defendants asked for a lawyer from outside Lee county.

The two defendants are charged with beating and robbing Porter C. Funderburgh of $1,600 on Nov. 24, 1948. Funderburgh lives in East Grove.

The inability of Mrs. Funderburgh to positively identify Smith and Lilly as the men who robbed and beat her husband was the main reason the last trial ended with a hung jury. The case was tried in April, 1949.

Operators of 35 Mines Open Pits in East

Pickets Cruise in Cars; Fear Violence

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27—(AP)—Eleven hundred non-union bituminous miners defied the striking United Mine Workers and went back to the pits in western Pennsylvania today. State police moving to block violence quickly arrested 17 pickets.

The state troopers brought reinforcements into the four-county Clearfield area where 35 operations resumed after a week of idleness due to picketing by unionized bands.

Miners went to work carrying rifles and shotguns. Armed guards paced near entrances to mine workings or stalked in underbrush nearby.

Scores of automobiles containing pickets cruised leisurely on narrow winding roads skirting the mines but made no efforts to interfere. Squads of state police trailed them and occasionally brought them to a halt for inspection.

In Clarion county some 50 miles from Clearfield, state police arrested 17 pickets charged with violating a court injunction against mass picketing.

Mines being reopened are located north of Pittsburgh. Most of them are strip working in which steam shovels dig coal from surface veins. Others are underground operations.

One operator said.

"We're going to stay in operation from now on unless we're shot out of it."

Another commented:

"We don't want any trouble but we'll give it to them (pickets) if they want it."

Some of the armed sentries around workings—recruited from ranks of non-union diggers—were posted atop the latticed tipples or derrick like structures at mine openings.

Some rode beside the drivers of loaded coal trucks, their rifles protruding menacingly from cab windows.

In West Virginia two pickets were arrested yesterday and one unidentified person injured as bands of roving pickets closed all non-union coal mining operations in Gilmer county. In Tuscarawas county in Ohio, nearly 200 men forced truckers hauling non-union mined coal to dump their loads.

The 480,000 United Mine workers are in the ninth day of their strike. They walked out after trustees of the soft coal welfare and pension fund cut off payments—and after Lewis reported that some southern operators had quit making the 20-cents-a-ton royalty payments.

The UMA is to meet Wednesday with southern soft coal operators at Bluefield, W. Va.—apparently on the question of back royalty payments. Lewis has served notice he'll not bargain on a new contract, to replace the one which ran out last June 30, until back payments are met.

On Thursday Lewis is to meet with northern and western operators at White Sulphur, W. Va. But he's said there can be no progress in the negotiations while talks are progressing in the dispute in the steel industry.

Fifty-Seven Cities Get By Six Months Minus Traffic Deaths

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 27—(AP)—Fifty-seven Illinois cities out of the 120 over 5,000 population had no traffic fatalities during the first half of this year, the state highway division said today.

None of the cities managed to escape without any accidents resulting in injuries. Johnston City came closest, with nine accidents and one person hurt.

Springfield's eight fatalities were the highest for any downstate city. Decatur was second with six, and East St. Louis, Joliet and Belleville third with five each. Chicago had 212 fatalities.

Psychiatrist Named to Examine Miller

Circuit Judge George C. Dixon announced today the appointment of Dr. Vladimir J. Urse, Chicago, as a psychiatric examiner for Lawrence Miller, now facing an indictment charging him with assault with attempt to rape.

Miller is alleged to have attacked the wife of a Country club manager near Sterling.

Prominent Baptist Charges Catholics Seek to 'Capture the United States'

Washington, Sept. 27—(AP)—A prominent Baptist churchman said today "a recognized major aim of the Catholic church is to capture the United States and make it the base for the Catholization of the World."

In a semi-annual report to the Baptist joint conference committee on public relations, its executive director, Joseph M. Dawson, declared that in this ascribed aim the Catholic church "seeks to utilize our government to forward its winning of America and to capitalize on both our government and resources in the effort to annihilate Russia and the Russian opposition to the Pope.

"Baptists, who by no stretch of the imagination may be charged with condoning Communism, cannot on any pretext consent to Catholics changing our constitution or gaining clerical control of our governmental machinery."

The Education Bill

Dawson, a clergyman and writer, devoted most of his report to a summary of Baptist efforts to prevent passage of any federal aid to education bill which provided government funds for private or parochial schools. The senate passed an education bill leaving up to the states whether to help such schools buy transportation, health services, etc. The house became bogged down in controversy after prominent Catholics had objected to a ban against such expenditures in a house bill that never got out of committee.

"Baptists cannot justly be called anti-Catholic, for they believe in religious liberty for all," Dawson's report said. "They would insist upon Catholic rights under the constitution in the United States as firmly as for themselves. We strive to live up to the historic pronouncement, 'Baptists have never persecuted.'

A Painful Step

"It is therefore all the more painful to us who cherish good will and the rights of religious conscience to find ourselves in conflict with the Roman Catholic church, even though our controversy pertains to relations of church and state instead of faith and polity.

"But doubtless this conflict between the Baptist free, democratic concept and the Roman Catholic totalitarian, hierarchical concept is inevitable and so unavoidable.

"Whatever may be argued about the wisdom of one course or another, Baptists find themselves in the forefront of what is commonly and present termed 'the Protestant-Catholic battle for America.'"

Dukes Get New Plays for Sterling Contest

Coughlin's Column

HOW DO YOU LIKE the new sports page makeup today? Or had you noticed? It's just to fulfill an urge that strikes an editor now and then to experiment for a better method of displaying the daily output of news. Or to play with type.

* * * *

Actually we're trying to find space to better serve the sports page readers. We've already (on some days) sneaked over into adjoining columns, and with a heavy football and basketball schedule coming up (plus bowling) we expect to find ourselves crowded for room. So . . . it was obvious that if we cut the banner from eight to six columns, and from 60 point to 48 point, trim the nameplate size, limit the sub-banner to 32 point instead of 48 point, there would be a few additional inches. The same deal in a condensed package.

THE GAME BETWEEN the Big Six and Midwest league All-Stars is set to go. The boys will meet at Rochelle on Sunday, Oct. 2, according to the information being released. Among the local Merchants to be in the lineup will be Dick Kelley, Victor Valve, Tommy Jordan and Bob Moore. The Reynolds Wiremen rate no one. They're "too old."

THE NEWS TODAY IS THAT the veteran Nelson Potter, of Mt. Morris, has been released, on waiver, to the Cincinnati Reds. He's of the Boston Braves, you know.

"Dear Cliff—

"When the Dixon football team went to Amboy the other night, six of the varsity squad were not along. There wasn't room on the bus!

"As a follower of the Dukes, I am in favor of allowing these boys to make the trips whether they get in the game or not. That is probably the only reward they get for showing up for drills daily. If they are not qualified for the varsity squad, why are they not cut off earlier to save them these disappointments?"

"A BYSTANDER"

* * * *

I AM INCLINED TO AGREE with you. In the first place the Amboy contest was practically a home game. If the trip was of any distance I would say the school had a legitimate reason to limit the squad. A total of 29 boys made the journey and all got in the ball game. Doubtless the remaining six would have seen action if there had been room to take them. One supporter told me that he would have volunteered to take the six boys in his car if he had known of the situation.

* * * *

THE VERY FACT THAT they would have been in uniform would have meant a lot to these kids. However there are some of the angles of this coaching business, and of handling boys, that are darned intricate. However, in this case, there seems hardly any excuse.

THE EXCLUSIVE RUMOR DEPARTMENT—Frank Leahy to leave Notre Dame at the end of this year to take over an East coast beverage franchise. That is the reason, says this story, why he refused the athletic directorship.

TWO LOCAL PREP GRIDDERS got a thrill at Saturday's college games. Bill Lafferty, of the Dukes, sat on the Iowa State bench at Champaign-Urbana and Tommy Unzicker, Sterling tackle, had a dressing room chat with Coach Eddie Anderson and Rollie Williams at the Iowa-UCLA game at Iowa City.

Lafferty was in the tow of Ed Lawton, local Iowa State enthusiast.

* * * *

FOOTBALL PRACTICE WAS resumed at Rock Falls yesterday following the lay-off due to the polio death of Jim Hendryx, reserve tackle.

Shifts at Ends Noted; Dusing Moved to Flank

Dixon's Dukes, definite underdogs in Friday's renewal of the Dixon-Sterling athletic feud, got down to real preparation drills yesterday with workouts continuing under the lights.

A long scrimmage, with new formations and plays, was the keynote of the three-hour session. Defensive shifts, designed to strengthen the tackles and ends, particularly the latter, was also in evidence.

* * *

"I think we have a chance," Coach Sam Owens said after the strenuous scrimmage. "These kids can do it if they make up their minds to do it. I think this game will be decided in the line, I really do."

That's why he placed stress on the end and tackle play. First he shifted Dick Dusing, once a halfback, to left end post and sent Don Utter into a tackle slot on both offense and defense. He alternated with Ray Flower and Wayne Hufford at the other end. Don Sproul and Ken Naffziger worked on the offensive team at ends for most of the evening.

* * *

Dusing disclosed a fine willingness and turned in a flock of plays. Utter, too, exhibited some of his best scrimmage work this year.

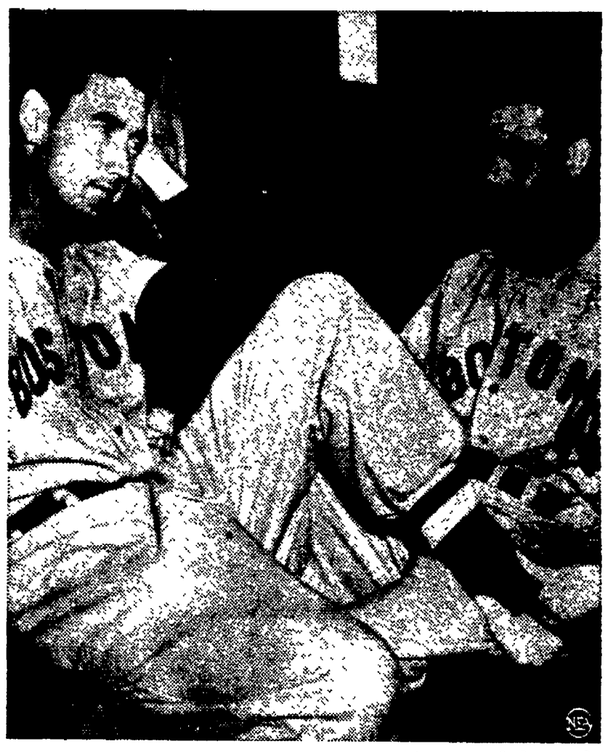

Particular stress has been placed on the work of the flanks since scouting reports show that the Golden Warriors possess the speed to run them. Also movies taken of the Lyons and Amboy tilts show that the ends and tackles have definite weaknesses.

* * *

The Dukes thus come to the "make or break" period in the 1949 grid schedule. If they can overcome Sterling, they stand a chance to finish high in the conference standings, a position quite foreign to them in recent years.

Local observers are maintaining that this 1949 club is head and shoulders above the elevens of recent vintage.

The backs are now beginning to polish off. The defensive angles are bothersome but the Amboy tilt showed the Dukes much improved over the Lyons opener.

THE HEAVY ARTILLERY—Ted Williams, left, and Dom DiMaggio, are shown in a dressing room scene as they discuss the possibilities of the Boston Red Sox remaining in the American league pennant lead.

Bums Outshine Heroes at This Pennant Stage

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 27—(AP) — One day you're a hero, the next a bum in the baseball business. . . . And at this stage of the pennant races the bums seem to outnumber the heroes. . . . Sunday it was the Dodgers' Burt Shotton who was the target, almost making Brooklyn fans forget about Bill Stewart's annoying actions in St. Louis. . . . Yesterday Yankee followers had a tough time deciding whether to hang it on Tommy Henrich, Ralph Houk, Joe Page or some other Yankees or the whole thing on Umpire Bill Grieve. . . . It was Grieve who ruled Johnny Pesky safe on a squeeze play for Boston's winning run over the Bronx dud-bombers. . . . But it was Houk who didn't block little Johnny off and Henrich who made the throw after a couple of other plays of doubtful brilliance. . . . Just after Snuffy Stirnweiss had bobbled Pesky's grounder between first and second, Ted Williams hit into the same gap. Henrich made a futile dive for it, Stirnweiss went behind him to get the ball and, since Page hadn't come over, there was no one to cover the bag. . . . Those actions, and the fact the Sox won, probably took the goat's horn right off Birdie Tebbetts. All Birdie did was try to take second on a third ball, thinking it was a fourth, and throw to second when it wasn't covered.

For the hero's role, we offer Al Zarilla, regarded as just a reformed St. Louis Brownie. . . . He pulled Pitcher Maurice McDermott out of trouble in the second with a jumping catch of Johnny Lindell's drive just in front of the stands, and he made an even more sensational diving stab of Henrich's grandstand-bound slam in the ninth. . . . See what we mean? If that one had gone for a game-tying homer, Henrich would have been the hero again.

Cliff Mapes, of Yanks, Center of Umpire Wrangle

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—Outfielder Cliff Mapes today found himself the middle man in a boiling controversy between Umpire Bill Grieve and the New York Yankees over the squeeze play decision by which Boston took over the American league lead.

After Umpire Grieve called Johnny Pesky safe at home on Bobby Doerr's squeeze bunt in the eighth inning of yesterday's game, Mapes, a Yankee non-combatant, yelled:

"How much did you have bet on the game?"

* * *

Grieve said the Yank flychaser repeated the remark in a runway under the stands after the ball game, which Boston won, 7-6.

"There's never been an umpire found guilty of anything like some ball players—like throwing a game," Grieve commented.

In the cool of the evening, Grieve said he still intended to report the incident to President Will Harridge of the American league.

"I'll explain the Mapes incident," he said, "and also tell how I was pushed by Houk (Yankee Catcher Ralph Houk) and the manager (Casey Stengel). I kept Houk in there because he was their only catcher but any other day, you know, both would have been out.

* * *

"The runner slid under Houk and that's all there is to it. Sure, I could have made the easy call, giving it to the home club; but in my heart, I know I made the right call."

Associated press pictures show plainly that Henrich's throw beat Pesky to the plate. But the dispute is whether the tag was made before Pesky slid over with the run.

Whether Mapes will be disciplined by league headquarters is for Harridge to determine. Harridge said he planned to issue a formal statement today.

Rally to Trim Yanks; Move on To Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The possibility was strong today that railroads—and not New York's famed subway system — will transport the participants in the 1949 world series.

The right of way between Boston and St. Louis is expected route of the series personnel instead of the hour ride via the underground from Ebbets field to the Yankee stadium.

New Yorkers' hopes of a "subway" world series suffered another rude jolt yesterday when the torrid Boston Red Sox defeated the New York Yankees 7-6, to snap their first place tie and move a game in front of the floundering Yanks in the American league race.

The dreams of a dime classic were jarred Sunday when the St. Louis Cardinals moved a game and a half in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers by downing Chicago while Brooklyn succumbed to Philadelphia.

* * *

Both the Red Sox and the Cards renew their pennant drives on foreign fields today while the Yanks are at home and the Dodgers idle.

The Red Sox, riding a ten game winning streak, take on the last place Senators in a night game at Washington while the Yanks entertain the better equipped Philadelphia Athletics. The Cards meet the sixth place Pirates in a night game at Pittsburgh.

Joe Dobson, (13-11) has been nominated to pitch for the Red Sox against Senator ace Rae Scarborough (12-11). The Yanks will send Vic Raschi (19-10) against Dick Fowler (14-10).

Big Red Munger (15-7) has been picked to pitch for the Cards against Lefty Bill Werle (11-12).

* * *

Both the Red Sox and Yanks have five games left to play. The two contenders wind up the season in the stadium with single games Saturday and Sunday following their three game series against Washington and Philadelphia.

The Red Sox outlook is brighter than the Yanks. The spirited men of McCarthy have beaten the Senators 13 straight times. The Yanks have won 12 out 19 engagements with the A's.

* * *

St. Louis will have its work cut out beating Ralph Kiner and company. The Pirates, despite their lowly perch, have split 20 games with the Red Birds.

The Dodgers return to action tomorrow when they open a two game set with the fourth place Braves in Boston.

A disputed squeeze play that climaxed a four-run eighth inning rally gave the Red Sox their triumph over the Yanks before 66,156 paid onlookers.

Bobby Doerr bunted John Pesky across with the big run. Doerr dropped the ball down the first base line. Tommy Henrich's throw had Pesky beat but Umpire Bill Grieve said the Red Sox runner slid under Yankee Catcher Ralph Houk.

The Yanks imediately swarmed around Grieve, claiming that Houk had blocked off Pesky. Houk, a major in the Rangers during the war, was the most enraged of the Yanks.

* * *

Ellis Kinder, who shut out the Yanks in Boston Saturday, blanked the New Yorkers in the last two rounds but an amazing catch by Zarilla saved the game in the ninth. With one down in the home ninth Henrich whaled a drive to right. Zarilla sprinted to his right, leaped while in full stride, caught the drive, tumbled to the ground but held on to the ball. Kinder then walked Yogi Berra but Hank Bauer flied out to end the game.

The Red Sox opened the game by scoring three runs in the first inning against Tommy Byrne and Fred Sanford.

Young Mickey McDermott held the lead until the fourth when the Yanks moved ahead with a four-run rally. McDermott almost received his walking papers in the second but Zarilla came up with a tremendous catch against the right field stands to rob Johnny Lindell of a three-run homer.

Ottawa's Brint Donalson One Of State's Standout Performers; His Passes Whip Rival Streator

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 27—(AP)—Halfback Dean Cochran of Greenfield and Fullback Leslie Franks of Farmington are making strong bids for top scoring honors of the 1949 downstate Illinois prep gridiron season.

Cochran, a fleet 165 pound runner, has counted 54 points—representing all of the touchdowns made by Greenfield in two games. Against Marquette of Alton last week, Cochran racked up 18 tallies but his team lost 39-20.

Franks bagged 18 tallies on three touchdowns in Farmington's 24-13 weekend conquest of Washington. He previously collected 24 counters in the Farmers' 26-0 getaway win from Tremont.

Some other standout performances in weekend games:

Moline's ace ball toting combination of halfbacks Jack Liljeberg and Austin Duke shone as Freeport succumbed, 40-7. Liljeberg lugged back the opening kickoff 82 yards to paydirt and later scored again. Duke, a Negro speedster, stepped off 94 yards in five carries for an 18.8 yard average and two touchdowns.

* * *

A nifty passing exhibition was turned in by Quarterback Jim Franz of Crystal Lake. Franz hit receivers on five of six tries, good for 110 yards and three touchdowns. Crystal Lake beat Zion-Benton 26-7.

The starring role in Mooseheart's 32-6 triumph over Champaign was played by Quarterback Harry Childress, whose 101 yards on rushing assignments bettered the Champaign team total. Besides registering one six pointer himself, Childress pitched two scoring passes to End Lane Lam.

* * *

With eight seconds left in the second quarter, Halfback Jack Theroit lofted the 25-yard touchdown aerial to End Fred Forth that enabled Flora to win its campaign opener, 6-0 from Centralia.

* * *

A Streator outfit that rolled up a 17 to 7 edge in first downs dropped a 12-6 decision to Ottawa because it couldn't stop Brint Donalson, the Ottawa quarterback. Apparently back to pass in the third quarter, Donalson wheeled toward the sidelines and threaded his way 49 yards for the winning touchdown. Donalson's 14-yard overhead shot to Jim Varland climaxed Ottawa's only other payoff sortie.

Murphysboro was another eleven that got the most yardage but couldn't win Pinckneyville was outrushed 132 yards to 223 and outpassed as well. But the Murphys had to march 66 yards in the final period for the points that produced a 6-6 tie.

* * *

Halfback Don Smith galloped for three touchdowns, whipped a 40-yard scoring pass and booted four conversions to take a hand in all Robinson pointmaking as Pana bowed 28-7.

The tide turned in East Aurora's 19-12 conquest of Bloom (Chicago Heights) when Aurora Halfback George King pounced on a Bloom fumble. Straight power plays took the ball 28 yards to Bloom's two from where King went over for his second touchdown.

BOXING

London—Promoter Jack Solomons said the devaluation of the pound had forced him to drop plans for a light-heavyweight championship fight in London this fall.

New York—Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, said the postponed world middleweight title bout between Champion Jake LaMotta and Marcel Cerdan of France would be reset for sometime in December if possible.

Purdue Ace Returns to Squad as Big Ten Prepares for Saturday

Chicago, Sept. 27—(AP)—Hurricane Harry Szulborski, top ground gainer in the Big Ten the past two seasons, will start against Iowa in the Boilermakers' home opener Saturday.

Szulborski sat out last Saturday's opening loss to Northwestern because of a leg injury. Coach Stu Holcomb says the crushing left haufback has recovered and hopes he will be back in his old form at Lafayette this weekend.

The Purdue squad, raring to go after a strong but losing fight against the Wildcats, reviewed a scouting report on the Iowa-U.C.L.A. game and then ran through a light conditioning drill.

* * *

In the other Big Ten camps yesterday:

Ohio State: First-string Buckeye gridders were excused from a brief scrimmage in which the second-stringers tied the third and fourth squads 6 to 6. Rod Swinehart, Wooster, Ohio, senior, and Skip Doyle, Rochester, Pa., sophomore, sparkled in the No. 2 team's backfield.

Michigan: Handicapped by time, Coach Bennie Oosterbaan began pulling his Wolverine champions together for Saturday's clash with Stanford. Marchie Schwartz, the Stanford coach, didn't help matters when he told San Francisco newsmen his team might break Michigan's 24-game winning streak.

* * *

Michigan State: The Spartans took it easy as a reward for the good showing they put up against Michigan last week. Coach Biggie Munn told his players to forget the Michigan game and start thinking about Marquette, their next foe.

Minnesota: Coach Bernie Bierman put his Gophers through a light workout, a breather they earned after trouncing Washington 48-20. Tom Krueger, 220 pound Duluth sophomore, worked out at the second string guard berth, replacing Gene Fritz, who suffered a broken leg Saturday.

* * *

Indiana: The Hoosiers counted their football injuries as its battered team began preparations for Ohio State. Only light workouts were held.

Wisconsin: Only one casualty resulted from the Badger's shutout of Marquette. He is Tackle, John Drews of Milwankee, who twisted his knee.

Northwestern: Trainer Carl Erickson announced that Loran (PeeWee) Day, Mason City, Iowa, defensive half back star, will be sidelined indefinitely with a dislocated thoulder suffered in the Purdue game. But there was good news, too. Erickson gave Quarterback Don Burson a clean bill of health after he suffered a shoulder injury in the same game.

Illinois: Determined to bounce back after being held to a tie by an underdog Iowa State eleven, the Illini began preparations for its Big Ten debut against Wisconsin with the accent on offensive drill. Russ Steger was shifted from defense to offensive fullback while Burt Schmidt nurses injured ribs.

Wolverine Can Tie Win Streak Record With 2 More Victories

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—By beating Stanford and Army in its next two games, Michigan can tie the modern collegiate football record for winning streaks—26 . . . Cornell wove such a skein in 1921-24 . . . Army's great wartime team, featuring Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis, won 25 in a row in 1944-46 . . . The longest unbeaten string was achieved by California's Bears from 1920 to through 1925—50 victories and four ties without a setback . . . Notre Dame now has gone 29 games without a defeat but has been tied.

* * *

Coaches Red Sanders and Ivy Williamson are off to good starts in their new surroundings . . . Sanders has won his first two games with a UCLA team that was kicked around plenty last year . . . Williamson's Wisconsin looked good in smashing Marquette Saturday, 41-0 . . . Last year the Badgers won two of nine.

* * *

All-America backs lived up to their advance notices . . . Northwestern's Art Murakowski dashed 30 yards for one of his team's scores in beating Purdue, 20-6 . . . North Carolina's Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice scored one touchdown and figured in two others as the Tar Heels trimmed N. C. State, 26-6.

* * *

But some other backs got the bigger headlines . . . Like Emil Sitko of Notre Dame, who shifted from halfback to fullback and punched across three touchdowns in the Fighting Irish rout of Indiana.

Iowa State turned up with a new formation against Illinois, a "V" formation that was interchanged with the "T" . . . It consists of the fullback and quarterback facing each other about five feet apart with the halfback behind them pointing to the line . . . The other halfback is out on the wing . . . The maneuver was good enough to gain a 20-20 upset tie . . . Illinois was favored by 28 points.

Musial Has Mark Of .143 in Forbes Field, Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27—(AP)—St. Louis followers who have insisted all year long that the Cards go as Stan Musial goes, were viewing the current two-game series against the Pirates here with a great deal of concern.

Through the years they've learned that Forbes field has been the toughest park for the great Cardinal slugger to hit in. With the pennant hanging in the balance, one or two bad days by Musial may mean the difference between a flag winner and a second place team.

The Cards were a game and a half to the good today, but a pair of defeats here and a Brooklyn victory in Boston tomorrow could throw the two teams in a first place deadlock before the Cards leave Pittsburgh.

In the nine games the Cards have played in Pittsburgh this season, Musial has made exactly five hits, four singles and a double, in 35 times at bat for a puny .143 average. Compare that with his .337 mark against all opposition, and it is evident why the Buccaneers have been able to win five of those games. The Pirates have divided 20 decisions with the Redbirds both here and in St. Louis.

After finding ourselves a little top heavy last Wednesday night, decided we should reduce so Thursday and Friday we passed up all sweets and also Saturday noon, and then returning from Midge Eckburg and Chuck Ramsey's wedding in Amboy, we found Lorraine Paulsen had sent us in one of her delicious cocoanut pies, about four inches thick. After fighting temptation for a full minute decided one piece wouldn't make much difference, and after we'd had that couldn't see there was much difference between one piece and two, so there went our diet, but we did give it a good try for two and a half days.

'Bold New Program' Talk By Truman Gets Cold Eye

JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 27—(AP)—Bare headed on bright, cold Jan. 20, President Truman stood on the temporary wooden stand at the capitol and delivered this inaugural address, beginning his full, four-year term.

In that address he outlined four roads down which he thought the U. S. should travel in its international relations in the years ago. He listed them as four points in this country's foreign program:

1. We should continue to stick by the United Nations. This the U. S. is doing.

2. We should continue our programs for world recovery. For example, the Marshall Plan. Later this year congress voted to continue the Marshall Plan

3. We should help strengthen friendly nations against fear of aggression. Congress has acted on that, too. It approved the Atlantic pact, linking us in a military alliance with western Europe. And then it voted arms for our allies.

"Bold New Program"

4. We must set out on a "bold new program for making the benefits of our scientific advances and our industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped areas." On this congress has done nothing this year, is not expected to act before next year.

But since that January day the "bold new program" has been known as "point four." It has received a lot of attention. And Mr. Truman and his advisers have been pushing for it.

They think point four should be carried out in two main ways:

1. By investing American money—meaning American businessmen investing their money—in backward areas to help build them up. When businessmen invested their money that way it would be understood they'd be investing to make a profit.

2. By technical and scientific help. For example, American engineers would be sent into backward areas to teach the people there some of the skills which have made this country industrially

Mr. Truman's advisers have sent two bills to congress to get approval on those two main plans for carrying out point four.

Under No 1, congress would guarantee that American businessmen would get some protection on the money they invested in the backward places For example, a guarantee that this country would protect them against loss if their investments were seized

Under No 2 congress is asked to vote $45,000,000 to cover the expenses of getting the technical part of the program under way. For example, the expense of sending engineers, scientists, or economic advisers into backward places.

Need More Cash

Today James E. Webb, undersecretary of state, was to go before the house foreign affairs committee to plug for that second part of the point four program: money for technical help to backward areas.

Because congress is so close to finishing up its work for 1949—or all the work it wishes to finish before going home—no action is likely on point four before congress returns in January to start its 1950 work.

Meanwhile the U. S. is taking part in various programs to help backward countries through international tie-ups For example: The food and agriculture organization and the world health organization, both of which have sent experts into countries which need help in health and farming work

State GOP 1950 Campaign To Be at Precinct Level

Chicago, Sept. 27—(AP)—Illinois Republican leaders say they are going to work harder "at the precinct level" in trying to win next year's congressional election prizes.

They enthusiastically greeted such a suggestion from Guy Gabrielson of New Jersey, national GOP chairman.

He told them yesterday at a party luncheon that they could "come out of the cellar of defeatism and shake off the inferiority complex" in rallying from their 1948 defeat.

National GOP leaders, he said, want to "pitch everything to the local level" in selling a clear cut set of GOP principles.

Such a policy program is being drafted. Locally, he said, the big job is to register more Republican voters and get them to vote.

Illinois leaders told a reporter later they plan to use the so-called Socialized medicine issue to dramatize the GOP contention that the Democrats are nibbling at individual freedom. Gabrielson suggested that, too saying it helped the GOP win a recent special congressional election in Pennsylvania after campaign debate on the Taft-Hartley labor law "seesawed."

Eyes on 1950

Werner W. Schroeder, Illinois GOP national committeeman, introduced nearly 200 Chicago and downstate party leaders to Gabrielson and told him they are working for 1950 victories.

Among those present from downstate were Carlos Campbell, Springfield, state GOP chairman; Mrs. Helen Griffin, Grant Park, women's division chairman; Rep. Reed F. Cutler of Lewistown, house minority leader; and downstate members of the GOP citizens finance committee

Louis Nelson, Cook county treasurer, and Alderman Theron (Bill) Merryman, candidates for the GOP state treasurer nomination, got big hands One of the loudest bursts of applause went to Simon A. Murray, west side leader who is backing Nelson.

Ex-Congressman James Simpson of Wadsworth is expected to announce for the Republican treasurer nomination next month Reports continue that Nelson is out in front and that Merryman may not go to the post

Last week's report that State Rep Clinton Searle, Rock Island is a candidate for state treasurer has been denied by Searle.

Merryman supporters after a downstate trip to test sentiment, say "downstate wants an open primary and the Republicans down there are fed up with the old names and old faces. They have had enough of machine politics and the men who run the machines."

Merryman, a Chicago plumber, said: "They are just as smart downstate as we are here They want men who are well known and favorably known."

Coach Seeks Post

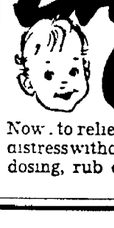

In the Democratic camp, meanwhile, Mark A. Peterman, former basketball coach at Springfield high school, is considering running in the April primary for superintendent of public instruction

Peterman, who had state champion teams at Canton in 1928 and Springfield in 1935, recently was elected as a Democratic supervisor in Sangamon county. He may run for the state nomination if Noble Puffer doesn't. Puffer is state director of registration and education.

Peterman is familiar to many basketball fans throughout the state as a coach and later as a newspaper writer on the prep game.

NOBODY GETS STEAMED UP—Wearing safety hats to protect them from falling objects, the board of directors of a power and light company in Beloit, Wis., convenes deep down inside a five-story-high steam generating boiler. The strange meeting place keeps the board members from being bored and, at times, literally "on their toes."

Germans Says Russia Has Uranium Fields

Berlin, Sept. 27—(AP)—Russia has found a ne wuranium mine in east Germany to spur its atom bomb production, west Berlin newspapers claimed today.

The papers said the new mine was opened under the direction of Russian engineers in former silver mines at Mansfield, near Eisleben in Saxony, Sept. 21.

Meet Big Dan Liu, Police Chief in Honolulu, Chinese

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—There is an Eskimo patrolman among the pineapples of the paradise of the Pacific.

And that doesn't seem at all unusual to the top cop of Honolulu—Big Dan Liu, 40, a six-foot-one inch Chinese.

"We have at least a dozen Nationalists on our police force," he laughed. "And don't think we're without Irish cops." I don't know where the Eskimo came from—just drifted in from somewhere I suppose. Now he's walking a beat for us. No, he doesn't have a dogsled. I don't believe he even has a dog."

A Melting Pot

Liu is proud of the fact he himself worked up through every rank to become the first Chinese chief of police of an American city. His force reflects the polyglot population of the island melting pot.

"One third are Hawaiians—they really love to be policemen,' said Dan.

The other two thirds are Caucasians, Japanese, Chinese, Samoans and Filipinos.

Liu came to the mainland to attend an international cop caucus, at which he reported on Honolulu's measures to avoid "another Pearl Harbor."

"We were the first police force to organize for atomic defense," he said. "If an atom bomb falls on our city we'll be ready to discharge our responsibility to the community."

Then he smiled as he added:

"Of course if our police are within a two-mile range of the explosion—well, they'll be out."

No Charlie Chan

Dan looks neither as mysterious as Charlie Chan nor as stolid as the average police chief who worked his way up from a beat pounder. He belongs to the newer generation of cops who think that preventing crome is an important a police function as catching criminals.

His force has a full program of sports, hobby training and recreational activities for Honolulu youngsters, and it mixes the kids of all races together at an early age.

Sets Example

Liu sets his police officers a good example by his own off-duty civic work. He is a leader in the local council of churches, the YMCA and Boy Scout activities.

The racial harmony that prevails in the Hawaiian isles is the envy of other areas where differences in color, politics or religion cause violence.

"Our crime rate is lower than many other cities of the same population group," said Dan, who believes this is true largely because of the islands' no-discrimination policy. He is married to a girl from Mississippi.

"Two things make our islands what they are. One is the brotherhood of Aloha, which simply means love from the heart without anything held back." The other spirit that prevails is Kokua, it is hard to translate, but it means to lift up—to help out the other fellow."

Dan said a policeman's lot under a tropic moon isn't particularly glamorous, as people everywhere commit crimes much in the same manner.

"Mostly burglaries and traffic violations," he remarked. "Not much imagination."

"SERVICE CEILING"

In aviation terms, "service ceiling" is that altitude at which a plane's maximum rate of climb, with given weight and power plant, is 100 feet a minute.

When using raisins wash them under hot tap water and then drain them well. They are easy to wash if you put them in a strainer.

Guess who's losing sleep over this one?

FOR years, folks have talked about the "low-priced three" in the car business.

For a generation these have been the same three cars, unchallenged for position simply because they were lowest priced.

But take a look at the beauty pictured here and ask yourself:

How would you like to sell against it, with its wealth of Buick features?

How would you like to compete with it when it wears a price tag any new-car buyer can reach, gives you straight-eight performance for less than many sixes?

Truth is, this one sets a lot of standards that are going to be hard to match.

This styling is certainly something to start other designers tossing in their sleep.

This handy size—a dream in traffic, yet generous in interior room—is a "must" for cars yet to come.

The lift of high-pressure Fireball power—the level-going comfort of the Buick ride—the luxury of Dynaflow Drive, here optional at modest extra cost—all these are wanted things others just can't overlook.

So why not do the obvious thing and go see the car that's causing sleepless nights in Detroit?

Study its smartness, test its room and comfort, try its handling, note the precise figures of its delivered prices.

You can do all that on a single trip to your Buick dealer's—and make your selection of a wide choice of equipment and colors at the same time.

Hint Mitchum Dope Arrest Was 'Framed'

Los Angeles, Sept. 27—(AP)—Was Robert Mitchum's marijuana arrest framed?

The district attorney's office says it is investigating "reports" that Mitchum and bit actress Lila Leeds may have been victims of Hollywood's purported extortion ring.

H. Leon Stanley, chief investigator for the district attorney, questioned Miss Leeds yesterday as the Mitchum case was reopened.

Mitchum and Miss Leeds served time after narcotics officers raided the beauteous blonde's Laurel Canyon cottage a year ago. Also arrested in the raid but later released was dancer Vicki Evans.

Miss Leeds told Stanley:

"I was putting up Vicki's hair and I was smoking a marijuana cigaret. Why didn't the cops, who were watching outside, as I found out later, pinch me then?

"They didn't. They waited until Mitchum got there."

Stanley said legitimacy of the arrests is not questioned, but his office is interested in reports they were "engineered."

U.S. 10 Years Ahead in A-Bomb Says Smith

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, former U.S. Ambassador to Russia, says he believes it will take the Soviets ten years to catch up with this country's present stage of atomic bomb development.

Smith, who now commands the first army, made the estimate last night in addressing a meeting of army reserve officers.

Temperatures Over Nation Near Normal

Chicago, Sept. 27—(AP)—Temperatures are headed for near normal marks over most of the country today.

Some cooler air moved across the Dakotas and extended over the great plains and upper Mississippi valley. But, weather forecasters said, the mercury would reach near normal levels during the day. The early morning lows were in the 30's in the Dakotas.

There were only a few wet spots. Light rain fell in southern Georgia, parts of the Carolinas, southern Virginia and eastern Kentucky. There also were a few showers in the plateau states but skies generally were clear elsewhere. Heavy rains hit parts of Florida yesterday, with Orlando reporting 1.65 inches in six hours. The fall at Jacksonville over a 24-hour period was 10.42 inches.

Pay Increase For Truman's Aides Talked

Washington, Sept. 27—(AP)—The senate, having agreed to raises in military pay, turned more critically today to President Truman's idea of boosting salaries for top federal executives.

A house-passed bill increasing the pay of cabinet members and other upper-bracket officials is the next major legislation on the senate schedule. It was listed for action late in the day after some other matters are disposed of.

It follows in the wake of senate passage by voice vote late yesterday of a bill giving pay raises to members of the armed forces in almost every grade at a cost of about $300,000,000 annually.

A similar military pay bill passed the house earlier. House and senate conferees now will attempt to iron out the differences, which are minor. Raises in the senate bill range from about $5 a month for recruits with five months service to $300 and up for generals with over 30 years service.

Controversy Develops

Much more controversy has developed over the executive pay bill, for which Mr. Truman made another plea yesterday in a letter to Vice President Barkley.

After a huddle of senators in the office of Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois, Senator McFarland (D-Ariz) said that 34 senators—20 Democrats and 14 Republicans—have offered a compromise which "is being accepted." McFarland is leader of a group which wants to scale down the pay raises Mr. Truman asked.

McFarland said that under the compromise no government officials except cabinet members and a few White House aides would have their pay raised above $15,000 and none would receive more than a 50 per cent increase.

For cabinet members, that would mean a boost in pay from $15,000 to $22,500 instead of the $25,000 provided in the pending presidentially back bill.

McFarland said the compromise also would cut the $16,000 salary provided in the bill for seven White House assistants to $15,000. But the president would be allowed to employ two at $20,000 and three at $18,000.

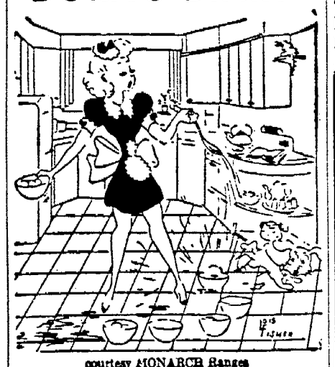

Here's Present Scale

At present the White House salary scale for presidential assistants ranges from $10,000 to a top, for one position, of $15,000.

The bill is scaled to give increases comparable to those for cabinet members to the heads of other executive departments and their top assistants.

Some of the raises provided in the bill as it passed the house and as the senate civil service committee recommended it amounted almost to 100 per cent.

Gives Birth to Four Babies, Dies

Chicago, Sept. 27—(AP)—Mrs. Bernice Ecker, 33, died last night less than three hours after she gave birth to quadruplets—two boys and two girls. Two of the babies, a boy and a girl, died during the night and were placed in an incubator.

Attendants at Holy Cross hospital said that Mrs Ecker's husband, Vernon, told them he did not know of his wife's pregnancy. They said Ecker, a truck driver, told them he brought his wife to the hospital to receive treatment for what he believed was excessive bleeding. A staff physician said Mrs. Ecker was suffering from anemia.

The first baby was born at 8:55 p. m., the second five minutes later. A boy was stillborn at 9:10 p. m., and a girl born at 9:15 p. m., died shortly before midnight, a few minutes after the death of her mother.

Believe All Hands Lost in Oklahoma Crash of Bomber

Talihina, Okla., Sept. 27—(AP)—A B29 Airforce bomber crashed and burst into flames near this southeastern Oklahoma town early last night, possibly snuffing out the lives of 13 crew members.

Tinker Air Force base officers in Oklahoma City said the plane was on a non-stop navigational training flight from Smoky Hill base, Salina, an.

Airforce authorities did not disclose names of the 13 men who boarded the plane on its takeoff.

City Marshal Jack Bishop said he counted 10 bodies near the molten mass shortly after midnight, five hours after the four-engine craft plunged earthward.

Heat Intense

Flames made it impossible for rescue volunteers to get within 100 yards of the plane after gasoline spread over the area. Intense heat after the fire died out also delayed a close view of the wreckage.

Some observers said they thought they heard the plane explode in midair.

Talihini is in the Ozark national forest area but the crash scene was in Prairie country inhabited by ranch families. It is 180 miles southeast of Oklahoma City and 75 miles southwest of Fort Smith, Ark.

Shortly after midnight observers at the scene said they sighted "something resembling flares." A search of a to-mile area failed to locate survivors, who might have parachuted.

Heard Plane Circle

There was no radio contact to indicate the plane was experiencing trouble. Some residents reported hearing the plane circling as if attempting a forced landing.

Robert Grubb a radio operator for Mid-Continent Airlines at Fort Smith, said he was in communication with the plane at 25,000 feet, the scheduled flying altitude for the flight.

U. I. Professor Fined on Draft Registry Count

Danille, Ill., Sept. 27—(AP)—A former faculty assistant the University of Illinois was fined $100 and placed on three years probation yesterday for failure to register under the Selective Service Act.

Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley told the defendant, Robert Wixom, 25, that the penalty was only on condition that he register within 90 days. If he fails to do so, Judge Lindley added, the probation will be revoked and Wixom will be sent to prison for a year.

Wixom, who was a chemistry assistant and graduate student at the school, said he is a Quaker and that his religious belief forbade him entering military service. He said he stated that fact in a letter to his Selective Service board and that the letter constituted appearance before the board.

Ray Foreman, assistant U. S. district attorney, argued that the act required Wixom's personal appearance.

Wixom's home is in Montclair, N. J.

All Want Atomic Control, But What Method, Question

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Russia's demand for international control of the atom bomb (which she now claims to possess, and quite likely does), finds complete agreement among the western powers—providing an acceptable method of control can be devised.

However, there's nothing new in that. It's a statement which could have been made at any time since June of 1946 when the subject first came before the United Nations in a big way. Both sides call for control, but the trouble has been that the Soviet and the west have been as far apart as the poles on what controls should be.

Moscow calls for the absolute prohibition or atomic weapons. However, the Russians want the destruction of present atomic stockpiles before any convention is signed. They also insist on the retention of the veto in matters affecting atomic control, and this veto power could virtually nullify the terms of an agreement.

Controversial Point

One of the hottest points of controversy is Moscow's insistence that each nation—rather than a United Nations Commission — should do its own inspections.

So the way things stand there can be no agreement unless Moscow retreats from qualifications which the United States and its western allies feel not only would nullify its value but would create an extremely dangerous international situation. Pending the happy day of compromise, America is losing no time in tightening up the military, economic and political unity of the western world in view of the disclosure that Russia has succeeded in making an atomic weapon.

Far from making a headlong rush to destroy her stock of atomic bombs, America is going ahead to maintain her advantage over the Soviet Union in atomic weapons. The partnership with Canada and Britain in atomic development is to be strengthened.

These moves are precautionary, however. Nobody is looking for war now. The western nations are anxious for atomic control and there even is speculation that President Truman might send a message direct to Stalin urging a fresh attempt through the United Nations to solve world problems, including atomic control.

Propaganda Value

Meantime Moscow appears to be getting some propaganda value among her satellites from announcement that Russia possesses the atomic bomb. For example, in Czechoslovakia the army newspaper Obrana Ludu says this means that the Soviet "now has the crushing upper hand" in world power. The paper says it is a warning to the warmongering west, and adds pointedly that it also is a warning to Czechoslovak "reaction."

So far as the western world is concerned, it is taking in stride the disclosure that Russia has developed an atomic weapon.

Are the American People in Retreat?

Thoughtful observers express wonderment at the apparent ideological inconsistency of the American people. They resort to military measures without stint to uphold the free civilization. They vociferously condemn the philosophies of socialism and communism. And yet they seem to accept with fatalistic calm the deadly growth of government in this country. They work on the average of one week out of four to pay taxes. And definite proposals are under consideration to spend additional incalculable billions in taxes to socialize or to place under government control industries and professions, and reduce American citizens to the status of subjects.

One of the clearest explanations of this apparent inconsistency comes from a member of congress itself. Representative Ben F. Jensen of Iowa points out in an article in Public Utilities Fortnightly, that Federal planners "have the security and prestige of public office. They can think about methods of influencing Congress and the public all day long, while on the federal payroll. On the other hand, the average citizen, busy attending to his own family, his own business, church, lodge or other matters that occupy his waking hours, gives very little time to thinking of how to counteract such a trend. He may not even be aware that it exists, or how his own interest is affected by it. That is why a few are able to impose their will upon the many. Yet I believe that a count of heads in any typical community would show that the people are on the side of a private economy and not on the side of subtle socialism."

Unquestionably the people in this country are against totalitarian government. They have never knowingly retreated before its threat. It is threatening them now and they are retreating—unknowingly.

People Should Be Informed On Symptoms of Cancer

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

When cancer is found early enough the chances for cure are good. For this reason it is extremely important that everyone should know what symptoms should send them to the doctor for tests to decide whether early cancer is present or not.

There is more cancer in the gastrointesinal tract (stomach and intestines) than in any other one system of the body. Therefore, any loss of weight which cannot be explained by dieting or other obvious cause is suspicious. Bleeding from the intestines or the presence of any mass, tumor, or swelling inside the abdominal cavity are causes for investigation. Difficulty in swallowing or unexplained loss of appetite should also result in a prompt visit to the physician.

The next most common locations for cancer are in the breasts and in the uterus or womb. Any lump in the breast is reason for examination. Any change in the nature of the bleeding from the womb or any discharge also require investigation.

FOUND IN OTHER PLACES

Cancerous growths can develop in other places, such as the lungs bladder or kidneys, or the mouth. Sores in the mouth, on the tongue or on the skin which do not heal quickly may be cancerous. Lumps appearing anywhere on the body should always be suspected. Unexplained bleeding from any of the openings of the body is always cause for immediate examination.

Some people are abnormally afraid of cancer and go from doctor to doctor thinking that they have the disease but are not being told the truth. This condition is called cancerphobia. The suffering which these people undergo is real and their distress is great. In order to keep their minds as free from fear as possible they need to be reassured every so often they do not have cancer.

Gambling Under Attack

Gambling syndicates and operators in LaSalle and throughout the country are scheduled for another round of difficult times as the LaSalle News-Tribune opens a vigorous campaign "to stamp out, once and for all, all types of commercial gambling and prostitution."

Sparking the pronouncement was a special feature article appearing in the Chicago Daily News which called LaSalle, "a little Reno—with gambling flourishing wide open, unhindered by police—in almost everyone of the 80 saloons." The News reporter found the three biggest gambling establishments within three blocks of the LaSalle police station.

Though the situation in LaSalle is more desperate than it is in other sections of the county, it is generally bad throughout and it is to be hoped that constructive and definite improvement will come from the cleansing process for which LaSalle is due.

In Streator, within the city limits, we do not have slot machines which perhaps is the greatest curse of any community, but we do have other games and devices which may not be as vicious, but which are merely slick in robbing the sucker who plays them.

Commercialized gambling should be blamed for (1) it filches money from the player without giving him a chance, money which often he can ill afford to lose and which is needed to meet family expenses for food and clothing, and (2) it is so highly profitable to operate through syndicates that they become a law unto themselves, pay heavy toll for the privilege of operating contrary to the law and for protection which is needed lest public officials do enforce the law. These syndicates are heavy contributors to election campaigns and the favored ones operate without competition and fear of molestation and annoyance.

When it was possible for a LaSalle outfit to tell a Streator road house what type of games it could operate and couldn't operate, it was evident of the influence which it wielded

Every effort to wipe out gambling is entitled to encouragement and support. Some of these days the effort will succeed.

ABOUT THE INCINERATOR

To the Editor
Dixon Evening Telegraph
Dixon, Illinois
Dear Editor:

It appears that the Dixon City Council is determined that we will have an incinerator, even if it is necessary to go to the expense of placing the matter before the people every 6 months. I am an open minded citizen and might also favor this method of refuse disposal, provided it is proved to me that the incinerator will solve our problems and is the best method, and be the most economical for the taxpayer.

Here are just a few facts which I believe should be publicized by the City Council in order that we may vote intelligently on Oct. 25.

What Will We Burn

Just what type of refuse will an incinerator burn? I have inquired about this and received many conflicting statements. The principal reason advanced for the purchase and operation of an incinerator has been the sanitary disposal of garbage. As garbage is not picked up in the City of Dixon during the winter months, will the incenerator remain idle during that time? For many years, a substantial revenue was realized from the sale of garbage to farmers. Why is it that the disposal of garbage has suddenly become such a costly problem?

Will it be necessary to maintain a dumping ground for disposal of refuse which will not burn in an incinerator? Undoubtedly it will be—and how about the expense of maintaining that over and above the original cost, maintenance and operating expense of the incinerator?

What type of fuel is used in an incinerator? That will cost money too, you know.

Why not select a city, comparable to the size of Dixon which now has an incinerator, and arrive at some estimate of cost over a period of years—including original cost, maintenance, and operating costs?

Equipment Costs

The City Council has stated that the landfill method is now being given a fair trial and yet by renting two large pieces of equipment at $10 and $15 an hour, respectively, the cost is running so high that any comparison to the cost of an incinerator on such a basis is not a fair one. The present cost should be discounted to what it probably would be over a long period if the City owned its own equipment.

What will it cost to hold another referendum on an issue which has already been defeated a short time ago? Can't this be considered as throwing good money after bad, especially as nothing new or different has been presented to the people to influence them to vote any differently than before?

Health Dept. Attention

I believe that certain members of the Lee County Health Department deserve much credit for articles which they published last spring regarding the merits of both types of refuse disposal. These people are trained in handling these problems and their advice should be given careful consideration. I believe the people of Dixon would appreciate more facts and figures from the Health Department.

This letter is not written to advocate any particular type of refuse disposal. It is simply a plea for more and better information for all citizens concerned regarding a subject on which they are being asked to make a decision. Our taxes are mounting every year—we want to vote intelligently—but we can't if we do not have the facts to support our decision!

A TIMELY PRAYER

Sept. 26, 1949

Editor of Dixon Telegraph
Sir:

Recently I was given some reading material, and in an old copy of a popular weekly I came across a very interesting article about one of our best loved holidays.

An excerpt from this article told of a prayer that was said by a New England divine, in behalf of one of our early presidents. A man, history tells us, who was noted for making his own decisions, and with determination, bordering on stubborness, in executing them. It is said that history repeats itself and I think the present time quite appropriate to revive that prayer offered more than a century ago. Quote: "And now, Oh Lord, endow the president with a goodly portion of Thy grace, for thou, O Lord, knoweth he needs it." (unquote.

(And how!)

Signed L. U.

Pleads Guilty in Huge Mail Fraud

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 27—(AP)—Edward Korpusinski, 33, of Chicago, pleaded guilty in federal court yesterday to a 10-count indictment charging a $200,000 mail fraud.

Korpusinski is accused of using order blanks from The Petroleum Heat and Power Company, where he was employed, to order pipe from an East St. Louis, Ill., firm. Then he sold the pipe at cut rates to contractors, the indictment charged.

Korpusinski was asked by Judge Dave W. Ling why he wanted to be sentenced in Arizona instead of returning to Ilinois.

"I didn't think there was any chance of fighting the case against a million dollar organization," he replied.

Judge Ling then set sentencing for Monday.

Korpusinski was arrested Aug. 31 at a Phoenix guest resort where he had purchased a part interest in the liquor concession.

Want 'Big Three' of World to Meet, Talk A-Bomb Agreements

London, Sept. 27—(AP)—A Labor member of parliament urged today a face-to-face atom bomb conference of President Truman, Prime Minister Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee.

The suggestion came in the House of Commons after Attlee rejected Winston Churchill's demand for more information about the disclosure of an atomic explosion in Russia.

Attlee said it would not be in the public interest at present to go beyond the Sept. 23 joint statement of the United States, Canada and Britain, which had said merely that an "atomic explosion" had occurred in the Soviet Union. Scientists interpreted this to mean Russia surely has an atomic weapon.

Father Finds Way to Ease Junior Off Comic Book Diet

Junior, aged 9, has had his nose stuck in a comic book all summer. His room has stacks of them. Comic books are all he reads and about all he seems to think about, says his mother, who asks me what she can do about it.

Well, here is how one father has licked the comic book problem.

When he realized what a hold comic books were getting on his children he made up his mind to do something about it.

What he did was to say one evening after dinner, "I think you kids are big enough now to have your own library cards"—making it sound like a great privilege, which, in truth, it is.

With that announcement he loaded the children into the car and took them to the public library, let them take out cards, and browsed around with them while they picked out books they thought they would like.

WEEKLY EXCURSION

Now one night each week the whole family goes to the library together to get enough reading material for another week. Because it's a family affair the kids enjoy that night the way they do movie night—and look forward to it.

That father didn't say "You can't read comic books." He offered his children something better and helped them get it.

He used a little psychology on them, too, remarking now and then that comic books were all right if you couldn't read very well and if you needed pictures to make you understand the meaning of words—but he thought they had out-grown that kind of reading.

That man's children still read comic books occasionally, but they don't waste a lot of time or money on them. And all it took to break them of the habit was enough interest on the father's part to get them started reading books that taught something while they entertained.

Double Only If You're Sure

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

I have often said, and I repeat it again, do not double a contract if you have only one possible chance to defeat it. Bear this in mind especially if your partner has not made a bid, because in that case you must expect to defeat the contract in your own hand. It is a good rule never to double a slam contract unless you have two sure ways to beat it, and never double a less than game contract unless you can defeat it in your own hand.

In today's hand North had what looked like three trump tricks, but that was all he had. East and West had made strong bids. Nevertheless, in the recent national knockout team-of-four tournament in Chicago, North doubled four diamonds.

The line of play was as follows: North led the nine of clubs, which declarer won in dummy with the ace. The ace of spades and ace and king of hearts were cashed, declarer discarding a club and a spade.

Next the king of clubs was played, and a small heart was ruffed by declarer. He cashed his king and queen of spades, then led the jack of spades and ruffed it in dummy with the eight of diamonds. A small heart was ruffed with the nine of diamonds and North over-ruffed with the ten. All he could do now was to make two more diamond tricks, so declarer made four diamonds doubled for a plus score of 870 points.

By

Westbrook Pegler

Here's the dope on organization known as "Americans for Democratic Action."

(COPYRIGHT, 1949, KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.)

New York, Sept. 27—I have a letter from Danbury, Conn., asking for information on the organization known as Americans for Democratic Action. It says:

"Governor Chester Bowles is sending an organizer to Danbury to organize a local chapter. I am quite sure this is a left wing and radical organization but have no facts to prove that contention.. I wanted to write an article for our local paper and need facts. Can you help me out?"

Westbrook Pegler

The meeting referred to has been held and I have read in The Danbury News-Times that A. D. A. made no impression. Mrs. Lucy Coniff, a local Democratic leader, a member of the legislature, turned down the organizer for A. D. A., and would have nothing to do with the meeting, which was, in words of one syllible, a flop. She said the local Democrats had always done all right as Democrats and needed no help from any city slicker from New York, especially one who didn't know whether he was a Democrat or a Republican. However, Mrs. Coniff is one of those unfortunate captive Irish Catholic Democrats of the old style who hope they are still working for their own, old Democratic party but know in their hearts that their party is being used by carpetbaggers and adventurers for the ultimate purposes of the Communists.

Political Parasite

It is not easy to describe the A. D. A. in definite terms but, first of all, it is a political parasite contrived after the disruptive influences which confused issues, inflamed feelings and abolished practically all party lines except the Communist party line in Europe. It is not yet frankly a Communistic force. Some professed anti-Communists, notably David Dubinsky, of the Garment Workers' Union, are using it for their own political and revolutionary purposes. You could put it this way, however: the A.D.A. advocates nothing which a Communist would oppose except the north Atlantic pact and a strong American war machine, the intention being to create a very radical socialist world here and in Europe. Once its own objectives were accomplished under the control of such democratic autocrats as Dubinsky, the subject citizen of the United States would be indifferent to Communism because it would be almost impossible to tell the difference.

Secret Quarters

The A.D.A. maintains a private and rather secret headquarters in the Sherry-Netherland hotel, in New York, run by Leon Henderson, late administrator of the OPA and an inveterate bureaucrat of impatient temper. He is one of those who hold that the people's individuality can be an obstacle to those who know what is best for them. A fair illustration of this attitude occurs where a minority of the members of a union appear at a meeting and, by a small plurality, enact some irrevocable and irreparable design of the politician in control of the meeting. That is the "democratic process." By that process it were possible one day to formally revoke "democracy" and, in plain language, adopt a dictatorship.

The national chairman of A.D.A. is Hubert Humphrey, the senator from Minnesota, who jammed the so-called civil rights program down Harry S. Truman's neck at the 1948 Democratic convention. The vice-chairmen include: Chester Bowles, the governor of Connecticut; Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.; Emil Rieve, the president of the Textile Union of the C.I.O., and William H. Hastie, a colored man who had several jobs in the Roosevelt bureaucracy and was appointed federal judge and then governor of the Virgin Islands.

Board Members

The "board" members include: Dubinsky, James B. Carey, a Roosevelt house-pet, formerly of the C.I.O. Electrical Workers, who was given a White House limousine with driver in Washington when the rest of the "war effort" rode the buses or those rickety little mechanical beetles called cabs, or walked; Melvyn Douglas; your old friend Frank P. Graham, a two-sided fellow, both of them left; Henderson; Herbert H. Lehman; Paul A. Porter, Walter P. Reuther, of the auto workers; and, until he died lately, A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. That was the old guy who was going to spend his entire treasury of forty million to lick Truman in 1948 but changed his mind.

The A.D.A. program demands treaties with foreign nations which would impose on the people of the United States abridgments or revocations of constitutional rights which could not be abridged or revoked by the normal constitutional process. These foibles are contained in the "universal declaration of human rights" of the United Nations. They would make it possible, for example, to revoke the license of a radio station in the United States, without recourse to our own courts, on the ground that some broadcaster had said something offensive to some persons in Europe. This wild program was debated very earnestly at the recent convention of the American Bar Association, but so far we are gone already along the road to the goal of the A.D.A. that the result was a noncommittal standoff. Even the American Bar Association could not bring itself to condemn a terrible shortcut to international government of the internal affairs of the United States. Some of my interpretations may be quibbled with to relieve the awfulness of their meaning to Americans, but they are substantially right.

When I observe a secrecy or furtiveness about this concern, I call your attention to the queen fact that when the New York City chapter held its "second annual convention" last Saturday, the Herald Tribune's account did not name a single delegate or official.

The prospectus of the A.D.A. says it was founded as "a non-Communist progressive political organization which would be neither a political party nor part of a political party." It seems strange that it should be at such pains to disassociate itself from communism when so much of its stuff comes out of the book of Marx, but that is by no means an isolated and queer case. Most of those who advocate the basic or early phases of the progress toward Communism boldly decry Communism. As they progress toward Communism—and that is the real meaning of the virtuous political word "progressive" as they use it—their voices get fainter in opposition to Communism.

Truman Revenge

I am especially interested in President Truman's revenge on the state's right Democrats who opposed him in the election, by contrast with his friendship with Dubinsky's party and the A.D.A. He ruled out veritable candidates of the Democratic party in five southern states on the charge that they oppose the ticket. But in New York, Dubinsky's party runs its own candidates and even opposes the Democrats, and the A. D.A. flatly declares that it will support Republicans and, the other day, did endorse one for mayor. Yet the president kow-tows to Dubinsky and takes orders from Humphrey.

Selecting Jury In Murder Trial Of 14 Year Girl

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 26—(AP)—Selection of a jury is expected to be completed today in the trial of fourteen-year-old Diana Allen, charged with murdering a seven-year-old neighbor boy.

Eight jurors were picked yesterday.

Diana's attorney, James W. Faulkner, indicated during the questioning of the prospective jurors yesterday that he would base the defense on the contention that Diana was unable to distinguish right from wrong when the slaying took place.

The girl is accused of killing Charles Johnson last April 30 by holding his head under water in a creek.

Taverns to Challenge the State's Right to Revoke License on Gambling Count

Chicago, Sept. 27—(AP)—A request for a temporary injunction to block the state from holding hearings on the licenses of tavern-keepers involved in gambling is slated for superior court today.

Two tavernkeepers' groups—the Retail Liquor Dealers' Protective Association of Illinois and the United Beverage League of Illinois—are seeking the injunction.

The two, together with three individual tavern operators, filed suit in superior court yesterday to prevent the State Liquor Control Commission from withholding license from taverns involved in gambling.

It seeks a declaratory judgment holding that the commission is violating the civil practises act by refusing to license taverns after local liquor officials have approved their operation.

Object To Hearings

It also asks a permanent injunction blocking the commission from conducting hearings into qualifications of tavernkeepers after local approval has been given.

The suit followed the state's announced crackdown on gambling. Chairman Charles J. Fleck of the Liquor Control Commission has said that renewal of tavern licenses for the 1949-50 period will be denied operators convicted of recent gambling violations.

Attorney Harold T. Halfpenny filed the suit for the two associations. He said its outcome would effect as many as 2,000 taverns.

Halfpenny said the civil practices act provides that the state is to issue licenses to any tavern licensed by local authorities and that the commission actions violate the "home rule" plan of the act.

Hearing Sept. 28

A hearing on the complaint of the asociations and the three individual tavern keepers is scheduled for Sept. 28 in the state commission's office.

Listed as co-plaintiffs in the suit are tavernkeeper Lawrence Lira of suburban Elmwood Park; Albert Kinast of suburban Lyons, and Margaret Porten of Cary (McHenry County).

The United States Library of Congress contains more than eight million volumes and pamphlets.

Rotary Hears It's Cheaper In 'Long Run'

Depreciation 7,000

Total $15,500

In explaining the difference in operating costs, the mayor said the incinerator is a one-man operation, while the land-fill requires two men.

According to maintenance men and contractors, the mayor said, the annual repair bill for land-fill machinery averaged $1,000. He said the relatively high repair bill can be traced to the fact the equipment operates under rugged conditions all year round.

Rockford, he said, had to replace its land-fill machinery in five years. Since the original cost of the equipment came to $35,000, the depreciation cost came to $7,000 a year.

According to the mayor, the incinerator does not have a fuel bill because it furnishes its own gas—methane—after the furnace reaches a 1,200 temperature.

He told a group of approximately 40 Rotarians that the incinerator is "smokeless and odorless, although there is a fine haze when it's first started. He cited Evanston and Oak Park, which have incinerator plants within one block of the central business districts.

"The cost of hauling is the most important factor in garbage disposal," the mayor said, "because it is the costliest."

Hauling Costs Cited

He said Dixon currently is spending $17,000 a year for garbage transportation. He added, however, that hauling costs will increase as land-fill sites become further and further removed from the center of town.

Mayor Hofmann emphasized that the nearest available site for the land-fill method is four miles from Dixon, a location which would increase the annual cost of hauling by about $8,000 a year.

He said that if the incinerator ordinance is passed, transportation costs could be reduced because of the central location of the proposed barbage plant. The city has an option on land between Fifth street and Seventh street, along the Illinois Central tracks, on Monroe avenue.

The city took an option on the land, he said, to avoid paying the skyrocketing prices that might result from the passage of the incinerator ordinance.

The mayor said the only way the current tax levy can remain the same is for the city to adopt the $80,000 bond ordinance. He predicted that transportation costs would rise as disposal sites were moved out, and that the only way they could be paid would be to increase tax valuation one mill for each $100 assessed valuation.

He said the one mill levy would increase revenue by $26,000—enough to cover all the anticipated higher costs of hauling garbage, that is, if the incinerator ordinance is defeated.

Can Increase Tax

Under the state garbage act, the city council can increase the tax by two mills on each $100 assessed valuation without submitting the additional levy to a vote of the people.

"But I never will be in favor of increased taxation," the mayor said, "if it is at all possible to avoid it."

During his 45-minute talk, the mayor called the open dump method the "most unsanitary, obsolete and inefficient" way to dispose of garbage. He dismissed the grinding method of disposal because of its "exorbitant" initial and operating costs.

Lincoln Youngsters Decorate Our Window

Injun summer has been brought to the windows of The Dixon Evening Telegraph by the sixth grade students of the Lincoln school, taught by Miss Harriet Ann Hodgson. It has been the custom at the school for each class to assume the responsibility of the show case for two weeks during the year. Feeling Indian summer in the air this group of sixth grade students selected these weeks to show their skill. As this display was so appropriate for this week the students with their teacher were asked to bring their clever arrangement where it could be seen by everyone.

Corn in shocks, a harvest moon and ripe tomatoes have invaded the windows, making an autumn display worth seeing.

AUTOMOTIVE HINT

STATE TRAFFIC POLICE HONORED—Two state traffic policemen were honored and awarded prizes yesterday in Sterling for their efficiency in capturing an ex-convict who kidnaped and robbed Frank W. Hoyle, a Dixon used car salesman. The patrolmen cited were Howard Riverdahl (left in photo), Rockford, and Charles Allen (right in photo), Rochelle. The Illinois Policeman and Police Journal published commendations to the men, and Lt. Ray Cramer (center in photo), Sterling, presented them with the citations and $10 cash awards. Riverdahl and Allen captured James J. Bishop on June 4. Bishop had gone to Hoyle for a demonstration, forced Hoyle to drive to the northern end of Boone county, then robbed him of $80.50, a wrist watch, and a fountain pen. Hoyle reported the kidnaping and robbery by telephone to police. Riverdahl and Allen suspected a car at Harlem road, near Rockford, to be the one driven by Bishop. They arrested Bishop after forcing him to the curb. Bishop carried a .38 calibre revolver.

State Labor Convention Gets Plea for Special Session of Legislature for Cities Help

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 27—(AP)—Demands for a special session of the legislature to help financially stricken cities were placed before the Ilinois State Federation of Labor's annual convention today.

Three separate resolutions urging that Governor Stevenson take such action were submitted by two delegates from Springfield and one from Chicago. The convention is expected to begin acting on resolutions late today or tomorrow.

The resolutions said a special session should broaden the sales tax base to cover more occupations and earmark the extra money for cities or lift the ceiling in city property tax levies.

"Practically all of the cities in the state are in desperate financial circumstances as a result of which all municipal employes are underpaid, and police and fire departments are inadequately equipped and undermanned," the resolutions added.

The 1949 regular legislature failed to pass Stevenson's $40,000,000 city aid program. It also turned down his proposal to bring in $25,000,000 a year by extending sales tax coverage to occupations now exempt.

Among other resolutions presented were those recommending:

A 48 hour work week and $235 minimum monthly salaries for firemen and policemen.

Increases in workmen and unemployment compensation, and benefits for workers idled by illness.

An Illinois law legalizing collective bargaining for all state and municipal employes.

A nationwide one-day work stoppage as a demonstration for repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

AFL unions should "seriously consider" establishing a six hour work day without pay cuts as a means of "spreading available jobs as widely as possible" among their members.

Immediate restoration of a recent 10 percent general relief reduction by the Illinois Public Aid Commission.

At yesterday's opening session, delegates heard a review of the recently settled Chicago Printers' strike from Woodruff Randolph, president of the International Typographical Union.

"The Chicago newspaper settlement was not only a victory for the local union but it was a basic victory of the standard newspaper processes over substitute methods without benefit of printers," Randolph said.

"The acceptance by Chicago Typographical Union No. 16 of a scale less than fair is a sacrifice of that union to the interests of peace and to secure such protection as is needed to live under Taft-Hartley."

Bishop William A. O'Connor of the Springfield Roman Catholic diocese urged that labor unions "strive vigorously for the restoration of religious principles to their traditional place of effective influence in American life."

Greece Refuses to End Military Law

Athens, Sept. 27—(AP)—Minister of Public Order Constantine Rentis today said martial law cannot be abolished in Greece because of "reliable reports that the Communists are planning to start again terrorist activities and assassinations."

Rentis said Communist terrorism was planned "to give the impression that a state of anarchy prevails in Greece."

India Nabs Hundreds of Alleged Commies

Madras, India, Sept. 27—(AP)—Madras provincial authorities outlawed the Indian Communist party today and announced "several hundred" accused Reds had been arrested in southern India.

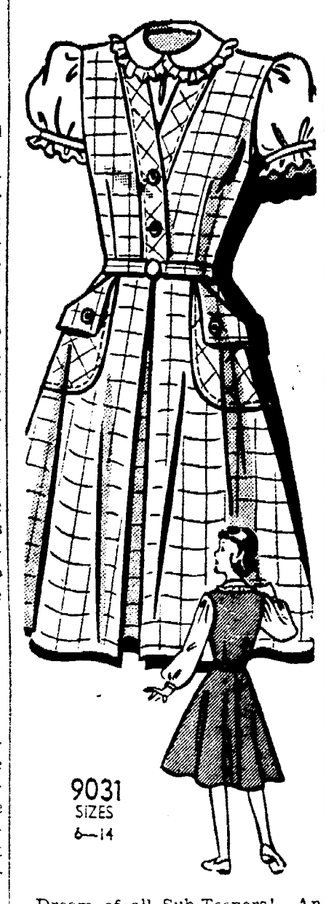

The provincial government also banned 19 Red-tinged labor unions and four other Madras organizations.

Australian Labor Government in Test

Canberra, Sept. 27—(AP)—Australia's labor government will face the voters in a general election Dec. 10, Prime Minister Joseph B. Chifley announced last night after a meeting of the federal cabinet.

The election will be a regular one, held every three years.

Cold Killer Pill Reported by Navy

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—Development of a "cold-killer" pill—is reported by the U. S. Naval Medical Bulletin.

The bulletin says the pill was discovered accidentally by the navy as several doctors were treating patients with anti-histaminio drugs to relieve hay fever and other allergy ailments.

The "cold killer" is available now only on a physician's prescription.

The remedy, which comes in tablet form, has a red coating containing a small amount of the newly-perfected anti-histaminic drug, chlortrimetin. The center of the tablet contains aspirin and other common cold compounds.

The name of the "cold-killer" is "Coricidin," derived from scientific words describing the tablet's function.

The Naval Medical Bulletin says Capt. John M. Brewster, of the Navy Medical Corps, did research on the role of anti-histaminics as cold preventatives. The work was done at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Great Lakes, Ill.

Ilse Hess' Sentence Reduced by Germans

Munich, Germany, Sept. 27—(AP)—A German denazification court of appeals today reduced the sentence of Ilse Hess, wife of Rudolph Hess, Hitler's one-time deputy.

The court reclassified Mrs. Hess from a minor offender to a follower — the lowest category of Nazi offender. It also cut her fine from the equivalent of $1,800 to about $60. She first was sentenced in March 1948.

Red Sox Move Into Lead in A.L. Race

☆ ☆ ☆ SPORTS DIXON EVENING TELEGRAPH SPORTS ☆ ☆ ☆

Page Eight Dixon, Illinois, Tuesday, September 27, 1949

HOW DO YOU LIKE the new sports page makeup today? Or had you noticed? It's just to fulfill an urge that strikes an editor now and then to experiment for a better method of displaying the daily output of news. Or to play with type.

* * * *

Actually we're trying to find space to better serve the sports page readers. We've already (on some days) sneaked over into adjoining columns, and with a heavy football and basketball schedule coming up (plus bowling) we expect to find ourselves crowded for room. So . . . it was obvious that if we cut the banner from eight to six columns, and from 60 point to 48 point, trim the nameplate size, limit the sub-banner to 32 point instead of 48 point, there would be a few additional inches. The same deal in a condensed package.

THE GAME BETWEEN the Big Six and Midwest league All-Stars is set to go. The boys will meet at Rochelle on Sunday, Oct. 2, according to the information being released. Among the local Merchants to be in the lineup will be Dick Kelley, Victor Valve, Tommy Jordan and Bob Moore. The Reynolds Wiremen rate no one. They're "too old."

THE NEWS TODAY IS THAT the veteran Nelson Potter, of Mt. Morris, has been released, on waiver, to the Cincinnati Reds. He's of the Boston Braves, you know.

"Dear Cliff—

"When the Dixon football team went to Amboy the other night, six of the varsity squad were not along. There wasn't room on the bus!

"As a follower of the Dukes, I am in favor of allowing these boys to make the trips whether they get in the game or not. That is probably the only reward they get for showing up for drills daily. If they are not qualified for the varsity squad, why are they not cut off earlier to save them these disappointments?"

"A BYSTANDER"

* * * *

I AM INCLINED TO AGREE with you. In the first place the Amboy contest was practically a home game. If the trip was of any distance I would say the school had a legitimate reason to limit the squad. A total of 29 boys made the journey and all got in the ball game. Doubtless the remaining six would have seen action if there had been room to take them. One supporter told me that he would have volunteered to take the six boys in his car if he had known of the situation.

* * * *

THE VERY FACT THAT they would have been in uniform would have meant a lot to these kids. However there are some of the angles of this coaching business, and of handling boys, that are darned intricate. However, in this case, there seems hardly any excuse.

THE EXCLUSIVE RUMOR DEPARTMENT—Frank Leahy to leave Notre Dame at the end of this year to take over an East coast beverage franchise. That is the reason, says this story, why he refused the athletic directorship.

TWO LOCAL PREP GRIDDERS got a thrill at Saturday's college games. Bill Lafferty, of the Dukes, sat on the Iowa State bench at Champaign-Urbana and Tommy Unzicker, Sterling tackle, had a dressing room chat with Coach Eddie Anderson and Rollie Williams at the Iowa-UCLA game at Iowa City.

Lafferty was in the tow of Ed Lawton, local Iowa State enthusiast.

After finding ourselves a little top heavy last Wednesday night, decided we should reduce so Thursday and Friday we passed up all sweets and also Saturday noon, and then returning from Midge Eckburg and Chuck Ramsey's wedding in Amboy, we found Lorraine Paulsen had sent us in one of her delicious cocoanut pies, about four inches thick. After fighting temptation for a full minute decided one piece wouldn't make much difference, and after we'd had that couldn't see there was much difference between one piece and two, so there went our diet, but we did give it a good try for two and a half days.

Dukes Get New Plays for Sterling Contest

Shifts at Ends Noted; Dusing Moved to Flank

Dixon's Dukes, definite underdogs in Friday's renewal of the Dixon-Sterling athletic feud, got down to real preparation drills yesterday with workouts continuing under the lights.

A long scrimmage, with new formations and plays, was the keynote of the three-hour session. Defensive shifts, designed to strengthen the tackles and ends, particularly the latter, was also in evidence.

* * *

"I think we have a chance," Coach Sam Owens said after the strenuous scrimmage. "These kids can do it if they make up their minds to do it. I think this game will be decided in the line, I really do"

That's why he placed stress on the end and tackle play. First he shifted Dick Dusing, once a halfback, to left end post and sent Don Utter into a tackle slot on both offense and defense. He alternated with Ray Flower and Wayne Hufford at the other end. Don Sproul and Ken Naffziger worked on the offensive team at ends for most of the evening.

* * *

Dusing disclosed a fine willingness and turned in a flock of plays. Utter, too, exhibited some of his best scrimmage work this year.

Particular stress has been placed on the work of the flanks since scouting reports show that the Golden Warriors possess the speed to run them. Also movies taken of the Lyons and Amboy tilts show that the ends and tackles have definite weaknesses.

* * *

The Dukes thus come to the "make or break" period in the 1949 grid schedule. If they can overcome Sterling, they stand a chance to finish high in the conference standings, a position quite foreign to them in recent years.

Local observers are maintaining that this 1949 club is head and shoulders above the elevens of recent vintage.

The backs are now beginning to polish off. The defensive angles are bothersome but the Amboy tilt showed the Dukes much improved over the Lyons opener.

Cards Whip 'Skins 38-7

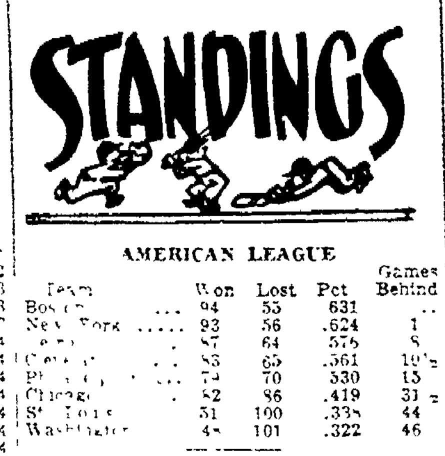

Chicago, Sept. 27—(AP)—Pat Harder and Charley Trippi led the Chicago Cardinals to a 38-7 National Football league triumph over the Washington Redskins last night. There were 24,136 fans in Comiskey park for the first league contest of the season for the Cards and Redskins.

Harder and Trippi each scored two touchdowns. Babe Dimancheff scored the other Cardinal touchdown.

Chicago tallied in every quarter, jamming over 17 points in the finale.

Trippi, withheld in the last period, took a 24 yard scoring pass for Chicago's first counter in the opening quarter after he had streaked 29 yards through the middle.

Washington made its only tally in the second ~~quarter in an~~ 86 yard drive featuring Sammy Baugh's pitches to Pete Stout, Eddie Saenz, and Hal Crisler. Baugh capped it with a five yard toss to Dan Sandifer. Dick Poillon added the point

Ottawa's Brint Donalson One Of State's Standout Performers; His Passes Whip Rival Streator

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 27—(AP)—Halfback Dean Cochran of Greenfield and Fullback Leslie Franks of Farmington are making strong bids for top scoring honors of the 1949 downstate Illinois prep gridiron season.

Cochran, a fleet 165 pound runner, has counted 54 points—representing all of the touchdowns made by Greenfield in two games. Against Marquette of Alton last week, Cochran racked up 18 tallies but his team lost 39-20.

Franks bagged 18 tallies on three touchdowns in Farmington's 24-13 weekend conquest of Washington. He previously collected 24 counters in the Farmers' 26-0 getaway win from Tremont.

Some other standout performances in weekend games:

Moline's ace ball toting combination of halfbacks Jack Liljeberg and Austin Duke shone as Freeport succumbed, 40-7. Liljeberg lugged back the opening kickoff 82 yards to paydirt and later scored again. Duke, a Negro speedster, stepped off 94 yards in five carries for an 18.8 yard average and two touchdowns.

* * *

A nifty passing exhibition was turned in by Quarterback Jim Franz of Crystal Lake. Franz hit receivers on five of six tries, good for 110 yards and three touchdowns. Crystal Lake beat Zion-Benton 26-7.

The starring role in Mooseheart's 32-6 triumph over Champaign was played by Quarterback Harry Childress, whose 101 yards on rushing assignments bettered the Champaign team total. Besides registering one six pointer himself, Childress pitched two scoring passes to End Lane Lam.

* * *

With eight seconds left in the second quarter, Halfback Jack Theroit lofted the 25-yard touchdown aerial to End Fred Forth that enabled Flora to win its campaign opener, 6-0 from Centralia.

* * *

A Streator outfit that rolled up a 17 to 7 edge in first downs dropped a 12-6 decision to Ottawa because it couldn't stop Brint Donalson, the Ottawa quarterback. Apparently back to pass in the third quarter, Donalson wheeled toward the sidelines and threaded his way 49 yards for the winning touchdown Donalson's 14-yard overhead shot to Jim Varland climaxed Ottawa's only other payoff sortie.

Murphysboro was another eleven that got the most yardage but couldn't win. Pinckneyville was outrushed 132 yards to 223 and outpassed as well. But the Murphys had to march 66 yards in the final period for the points that produced a 6-6 tie.

* * *

Halfback Don Smith galloped for three touchdowns, whipped a 40-yard scoring pass and booted four conversions to take a hand in all Robinson pointmaking as Pana bowed 28-7.

The tide turned in East Aurora's 19-12 conquest of Bloom (Chicago Heights) when Aurora Halfback George King pounced on a Bloom fumble. Straight power plays took the ball 28 yards to Bloom's two from where King went over for his second touchdown

Bums Outshine Heroes at This Pennant Stage

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—One day you're a hero, the next a bum in the baseball business. . . . And at this stage of the pennant races the bums seem to outnumber the heroes. . . . Sunday it was the Dodgers' Burt Shotton who was the target, almost making Brooklyn fans forget about Bill Stewart's annoying actions in St. Louis. . . . Yesterday Yankee followers had a tough time deciding whether to hang it on Tommy Henrich, Ralph Houk, Joe Page or some other Yankees or the whole thing on Umpire Bill Grieve. . . . It was Grieve who ruled Johnny Pesky safe on a squeeze play for Boston's winning run over the Bronx dud-bombers. . . . But it was Houk who didn't block little Johnny off and Henrich who made the throw after a couple of other plays of doubtful brilliance. . . . Just after Snuffy Stirnweiss had bobbled Pesky's grounder between first and second, Ted Williams hit into the same gap. Henrich made a futile dive for it, Stirnweiss went behind him to get the ball and, since Page hadn't come over, there was no one to cover the bag. . . . Those actions, and the fact the Sox won, probably took the goat's horn right off Birdie Tebbetts. All Birdie did was try to take second on a third ball, thinking it was a fourth, and throw to second when it wasn't covered.

For the hero's role, we offer Al Zarilla, regarded as just a reformed St. Louis Brownie. . . . He pulled Pitcher Maurice McDermott out of trouble in the second with a jumping catch of Johnny Lindell's drive just in front of the stands, and he made an even more sensational diving stab of Henrich's grandstand-bound slam in the ninth. . . . See what we mean? If that one had gone for a game-tying homer, Henrich would have been the hero again.

THIS WEEK IN SPORTS

BOXING

London—Promoter Jack Solomons said the devaluation of the pound had forced him to drop plans for a light-heavyweight championship fight in London this fall.

New York—Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, said the postponed world middleweight title bout between Champion Jake LaMotta and Marcel Cerdan of France would be reset for sometime in December if possible.

Cliff Mapes, of Yanks, Center of Umpire Wrangle

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—Outfielder Cliff Mapes today found himself the middle man in a boiling controversy between Umpire Bill Grieve and the New York Yankees over the squeeze play decision by which Boston took over the American league lead.

After Umpire Grieve called Johnny Pesky safe at home on Bobby Doerr's squeeze bunt in the eighth inning of yesterday's game, Mapes, a Yankee non-combatant, yelled:

"How much did you have bet on the game?"

* * *

Grieve said the Yank flychaser repeated the remark in a runway under the stands after the ball game, which Boston won, 7-6.

"There's never been an umpire found guilty of anything like some ball players—like throwing a game," Grieve commented.

In the cool of the evening, Grieve said he still intended to report the incident to President Will Harridge of the American league.

"I'll explain the Mapes incident," he said, "and also tell how I was pushed by Houk (Yankee Catcher Ralph Houk) and the manager (Casey Stengel). I kept Houk in there because he was their only catcher but any other day, you know, both would have been out.

* * *

"The runner slid under Houk and that's all there is to it. Sure, I could have made the easy call, giving it to the home club; but in my heart, I know I made the right call."

Associated press pictures show plainly that Henrich's throw beat Pesky to the plate. But the dispute is whether the tag was made before Pesky slid over with the run.

Whether Mapes will be disciplined by league headquarters is for Harridge to determine. Harridge said he planned to issue a formal statement today.

Musial Has Mark Of .143 in Forbes Field, Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27—(AP)—St. Louis followers who have insisted all year long that the Cards go as Stan Musial goes, were viewing the current two-game series against the Pirates here with a great deal of concern.

Through the years they've learned that Forbes field has been the toughest park for the great Cardinal slugger to hit in. With the pennant hanging in the balance, one or two bad days by Musial may mean the difference between a flag winner and a second place team.

The Cards were a game and a half to the good today, but a pair of defeats here and a Brooklyn victory in Boston tomorrow could throw the two teams in a first place deadlock before the Cards leave Pittsburgh.

In the nine games the Cards have played in Pittsburgh this season, Musial has made exactly five hits, four singles and a double, in 35 times at bat for a puny .143 average. Compare that with his .337 mark against all opposition, and it is evident why the Buccaneers have been able to win five of those games. The Pirates have divided 20 decisions with the Redbirds both here and in St. Louis.

Purdue Ace Returns to Squad as Big Ten Prepares for Saturday

Chicago, Sept. 27—(AP)—Hurricane Harry Szulborski, top ground gainer in the Big Ten the past two seasons, will start against Iowa in the Boilermakers' home opener Saturday.

Szulborski sat out last Saturday's opening loss to Northwestern because of a leg injury. Coach Stu Holcomb says the crushing left haufback has recovered and hopes he will be back in his old form at Lafayette this weekend.

The Purdue squad, raring to go after a strong but losing fight against the Wildcats, reviewed a scouting report on the Iowa-U.C.L.A. game and then ran through a light conditioning drill.

* * *

In the other Big Ten camps yesterday:

Ohio State: First-string Buckeye gridders were excused from a brief scrimmage in which the second-stringers tied the third and fourth squads 6 to 6. Rod Swinehart, Wooster, Ohio, senior, and Skip Doyle, Rochester, Pa., sophomore, sparkled in the No. 2 team's backfield.

Michigan: Handicapped by time, Coach Bennie Oosterbaan began pulling his Wolverine champions together for Saturday's clash with Stanford. Marchie Schwartz, the Stanford coach, didn't help matters when he told San Francisco newsmen his team might break Michigan's 24-game winning streak.

* * *

Michigan State: The Spartans took it easy as a reward for the good showing they put up against Michigan last week. Coach Biggie Munn told his players to forget the Michigan game and start thinking about Marquette, their next foe.

Minnesota: Coach Bernie Bierman put his Gophers through a light workout, a breather they earned after trouncing Washington 48-20 Tom Krueger, 220 pound Duluth sophomore, worked out at the second string guard berth, replacing Gene Fritz, who suffered a broken leg Saturday.

* * *

Indiana The Hoosiers counted their football injuries as its battered team began preparations for Ohio State. Only light workouts were held.

Wisconsin: Only one casualty resulted from the Badger's shutout of Marquette. He is Tackle, John Drews of Milwankee, who twisted his knee

Northwestern: Trainer Carl Erickson announced that Loran (PeeWee) Day, Mason City, Iowa, defensive half back star, will be sidelined indefinitely with a dislocated thoulder suffered in the Purdue game. But there was good news, too. Erickson gave Quarterback Don Burson a clean bill of health after he suffered a shoulder injury in the same game.

Illinois: Determined to bounce back after being held to a tie by an underdog Iowa State eleven, the Illini began preparations ~~for~~ its Big Ten debut against Wisconsin with the accent on offensive drill. Russ Steger was shifted from defense to offensive fullback while Burt Schmidt nurses injured ribs.

Wolverine Can Tie Win Streak Record With 2 More Victories

New York, Sept. 27—(AP)—By beating Stanford and Army in its next two games, Michigan can tie the modern collegiate football record for winning streaks—26 . . . Cornell wove such a skein in 1921-24 . . . Army's great wartime team, featuring Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis, won 25 in a row in 1944-46 . . . The longest unbeaten string was achieved by California's Bears from 1920 to through 1925—50 victories and four ties without a setback . . . Notre Dame now has gone 29 games without a defeat but has been tied.

* * *

Coaches Red Sanders and Ivy Williamson are off to good starts in their new surroundings . . . Sanders has won his first two games with a UCLA team that was kicked around plenty last year . . . Williamson's Wisconsin looked good in smashing Marquette Saturday, 41-0 . . . Last year the Badgers won two of nine.

All-America backs lived up to their advance notices . . . Northwestern's Art Murakowski dashed 30 yards for one of his team's scores in beating Purdue, 20-6 . . . North Carolina's Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice scored one touchdown and figured in two others as the Tar Heels trimmed N. C. State, 26-6.

But some other backs got the bigger headlines . . . Like Emil Sitko of Notre Dame, who shifted from halfback to fullback and punched across three touchdowns in the Fighting Irish rout of Indiana.

Iowa State turned up with a new formation against Illinois, a "V" formation that was interchanged with the "T" . . . It consists of the fullback and quarterback facing each other about five feet apart with the halfback behind them pointing to the line . . . The other halfback is out on the wing . . . The maneuver was good enough to gain a 20-20 upset tie . . . Illinois was favored by 28 points.

Rally to Trim Yanks; Move on To Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The possibility was strong today that railroads—and not New York's famed subway system — will transport the participants in the 1949 world series.

The right of way between Boston and St. Louis is expected route of the series personnel instead of the hour ride via the underground from Ebbets field to the Yankee stadium.

New Yorkers' hopes of a "subway" world series suffered another rude jolt yesterday when the torrid Boston Red Sox defeated the New York Yankees 7-6, to snap their first place tie and move a game in front of the floundering Yanks in the American league race.

The dreams of a dime classic were jarred Sunday when the St. Louis Cardinals moved a game and a half in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers by downing Chicago while Brooklyn succumbed to Philadelphia.

Both the Red Sox and the Cards renew their pennant drives on foreign fields today while the Yanks are at home and the Dodgers idle.

The Red Sox, riding a ten game winning streak, take on the last place Senators in a night game at Washington while the Yanks entertain the better equipped Philadelphia Athletics. The Cards meet the sixth place Pirates in a night game at Pittsburgh.

Joe Dobson, (13-11) has been nominated to pitch for the Red Sox against Senator ace Rae Scarborough (12-11). The Yanks will send Vic Raschi (19-10) against Dick Fowler (14-10).

Big Red Munger (15-7) has been picked to pitch for the Cards against Lefty Bill Werle (11-12).

* * *

Both the Red Sox and Yanks have five games left to play. The two contenders wind up the season in the stadium with single games Saturday and Sunday following their three game series against Washington and Philadelphia.

The Red Sox outlook is brighter than the Yanks. The spirited men of McCarthy have beaten the Senators 13 straight times. The Yanks have won 12 out 19 engagements with the A's.

St. Louis will have its work cut out beating Ralph Kiner and company. The Pirates, despite their lowly perch, have split 20 games with the Red Birds.

The Dodgers return to action tomorrow when they open a two game set with the fourth place Braves in Boston.

A disputed squeeze play that climaxed a four-run eighth inning rally gave the Red Sox their triumph over the Yanks before 66,156 paid onlookers.

Bobby Doerr bunted John Pesky across with the big run. Doerr dropped the ball down the first base line. Tommy Henrich's throw had Pesky beat but Umpire Bill Grieve said the Red Sox runner slid under Yankee Catcher Ralph Houk.

The Yanks imediately swarmed around Grieve, claiming that Houk had blocked off Pesky. Houk, a major in the Rangers during the war, was the most enraged of the Yanks.

Ellis Kinder, who shut out the Yanks in Boston Saturday, blanked the New Yorkers in the last two rounds but an amazing catch by Zarilla saved the game in the ninth. With one down in the home ninth Henrich whaled a drive to right. Zarilla sprinted to his right, leaped while in full stride, caught the drive, tumbled to the ground but held on to the ball. Kinder then walked Yogi Berra but Hank Bauer flied out to end the game.

The Red Sox opened the game by scoring three runs in the first inning against Tommy Byrne and Fred Sanford.

Young Mickey McDermott held the lead until the fourth when the Yanks moved ahead with a four-run rally. McDermott almost received his walking papers in the second but Zarilla came up with a tremendous catch against the right field stands to rob Johnny Lindell of a three-run homer.

'Bold New Program' Talk By Truman Gets Cold Eye

JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 27—(AP)—Bare headed on bright, cold Jan. 20, President Truman stood on the temporary wooden stand at the capitol and delivered this inaugural address, beginning his full, four-year term.

In that address he outlined four roads down which he thought the U. S. should travel in its international relations in the years ago. He listed them as four points in this country's foreign program:

1. We should continue to stick by the United Nations. This the U. S. is doing.

2. We should continue our programs for world recovery. For example, the Marshall Plan. Later this year congress voted to continue the Marshall Plan

3 We should help strengthen friendly nations against fear of aggression Congress has acted on that, too. It approved the Atlantic pact, linking us in a military alliance with western Europe And then it voted arms for our allies.

"Bold New Program"

4 We must set out on a "bold new program for making the benefits of our scientific advances and our industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped areas." On this congress has done nothing this year, is not expected to act before next year.

But since that January day the "bold new program" has been known as "point four." It has received a lot of attention. And Mr. Truman and his advisers have been pushing for it.

They think point four should be carried out in two main ways:

1. By investing American money—meaning American businessmen investing their money—in backward areas to help build them up. When businessmen invested their money that way it would be understood they'd be investing to make a profit.

2. By technical and scientific help. For example, American engineers would be sent into backward areas to teach the people there some of the skills which have made this country industrially

Mr. Truman's advisers have sent two bills to congress to get approval on those two main plans for carrying out point four:

Under No 1 congress would guarantee that American businessmen would get some protection on the money they invested in the backward places For example, a guarantee that this country would protect them against loss if their investments were seized.

Under No 2 congress is asked to vote $45,000,000 to cover the expenses of getting the technical part of the program under way. For example, the expense of sending engineers, scientists, or economic advisers into backward places.

Need More Cash

Today James E. Webb, undersecretary of state, was to go before the house foreign affairs committee to plug for that second part of the point four program: money for technical help to backward areas.

Because congress is so close to finishing up its work for 1949—or all the work it wishes to finish before going home—no action is likely on point four before congress returns in January to start its 1950 work.

Meanwhile the U. S. is taking part in various programs to help backward countries through international tie-ups. For example: The food and agriculture organization and the world health organization, both of which have sent experts into countries which need help in health and farming work

State GOP 1950 Campaign To Be at Precinct Level

Chicago, Sept. 27—(AP)—Illinois Republican leaders say they are going to work harder "at the precinct level" in trying to win next year's congressional election prizes.

They enthusiastically greeted such a suggestion from Guy Gabrielson of New Jersey, national GOP chairman.

He told them yesterday at a party luncheon that they could "come out of the cellar of defeatism and shake off the inferiority complex" in rallying from their 1948 defeat.

National GOP leaders, he said, want to "pitch everything to the local level" in selling a clear cut set of GOP principles.

Such a policy program is being drafted. Locally, he said, the big job is to register more Republican voters and get them to vote.

Illinois leaders told a reporter later they plan to use the so-called Socialized medicine issue to dramatize the GOP contention that the Democrats are nibbling at individual freedom. Gabrielson suggested that, too, saying it helped the GOP win a recent special congressional election in Pennsylvania after campaign debate on the Taft-Hartley labor law "seesawed."

Eyes on 1950

Werner W. Schroeder, Illinois GOP national committeeman, introduced nearly 200 Chicago and downstate party leaders to Gabrielson and told him they are working for 1950 victories.

Among those present from downstate were Carlos Campbell, Springfield, state GOP chairman; Mrs. Helen Griffin, Grant Park, women's division chairman; Rep. Reed F. Cutler of Lewistown, house minority leader; and downstate members of the GOP citizens finance committee

Louis Nelson, Cook county treasurer, and Alderman Theron (Bill) Merryman, candidates for the GOP state treasurer nomination, got big hands One of the loudest bursts of applause went to Sinon A. Murray, west side leader who is backing Nelson.

Ex-Congressman James Simpson of Wadsworth is expected to announce for the Republican treasurer nomination next month Reports continue that Nelson is out in front and that Merryman may not go to the post

Last week's report that State Rep Clinton Searle, Rock Island is a candidate for state treasurer has been denied by Searle.

Merryman supporters after a downstate trip to test sentiment, say "downstate wants an open primary and the Republicans down there are fed up with the old names and old faces. They have had enough of machine politics and the men who run the machines."

Merryman, a Chicago plumber, said: "They are just as smart downstate as we are here They want men who are well known and favorably known"

Coach Seeks Post

In the Democratic camp, meanwhile, Mark A. Peterman, former basketball coach at Springfield high school is considering running in the April primary for superintendent of public instruction.

Peterman, who had state champion teams at Canton in 1928 and Springfield in 1935, recently was elected as a Democratic supervisor in Sangamon county. He may run for the state nomination if Noble Puffer doesn't. Puffer is state director of registration and education.

Peterman is familiar to many basketball fans throughout the state as a coach and later as a newspaper writer on the prep gme.
